'Decisive' Battle Looms in Chinese Civil War

HALF MILLION TROOPS MASS IN SHANTUNG, HONAN

REINFORCEMENTS ENROUTE TO THE BORDER REGION, PEIPING REPORTS

NORTHERN REBEL TROOPS FACE NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT FORCES

Peiping, China, Aug. 7.—(U.P.) — A battle which was expected to be "decisive" in the Chinese civil war was impending today between the armies of the northern rebel government at Peiping and the troops of the Nanking national government.

About 500,000 troops were reported massed in Shantung and Honan provinces and reinforcements were enroute to the border region.

The Chinese nationalist government also took the offensive in Hunan and Hupeh provinces against Chinese "communists" who have been advancing northward for weeks, using bandit-like tactics.

One of the largest concentrations of foreign forces in years has been made at Hankow, about 600 miles up the Yangtze river from Shanghai.

A detachment of nationalist troops was dispatched to northern Hupeh, where Hankow is located, to reinforce other government troops recalled from the northern China battle front.

Chinese authorities at Hankow informed Frank P. Lockhart, United States consul there, that they considered the city safe from danger.

Barbed wire barricades, however, have been erected in the French and Japanese concessions in the city, but no evacuation orders have been issued.

Martial law was clamped down more tightly on Hankow today as province authorities sought to protect that city from the ravages Changsha, 200 miles to the south, endured when the "communists" burst into the city with knives drawn and a sharp eye for gold.

Five "communists," two of them girls, were beheaded at Hankow for attempting to instigate a mutiny in prison.

Eleven United States gunboats lay in the river at Hankow, while Japan had eight there and four destroyers enroute up the Yangtze. Great Britain, France and Italy also were well represented among the foreign warcraft, and all were prepared to land forces if fighting should break out in Hankow. Great Britain also had military reinforcements enroute to the city.

Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the national government, was seeking today to push northward along the Tsinpu railroad to strike at the northern forces which have advanced southward from Shantung. All available troops were being hurried to the region for the expected battle.

HOLD 2 SUSPECTS IN GANG MURDER

TWO MEN WITH GANG AND POLICE RECORDS ARRESTED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.) — Two suspects in the gang murder of Jack Zuta in Wisconsin, were held today.

Claude Mahaffey and William Doyle both with gang and police records, were arrested last night in the north side haunts of the Moran-Zuta-Aiello gang and held secretly until today when they were questioned by Chief of Detectives John Norton.

Norton said their records, measurements and pictures had been sent to Waukesha county, Wis., authorities for inspection of witnesses to ascertain if either was in the gang that cornered Zuta in a roadhouse and riddled him with machine guns, shot guns and pistols.

Neither Mahaffey nor Doyle was carrying a pistol when arrested but Doyle is free on $3,000 bond pending trial on gun-toting charges.

GIRL OF 17 SAYS SHE WAS DRUGGED BY TWO MEN

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Genevieve Rose, 17, today reported to police that she had been drugged by two strangers last night who attempted to kidnap her.

She said the men forced her to enter their automobile which bore North Dakota license plates. She said the men were armed and the incident occurred near the edge of town. The two then drove the car toward Pelican Rapids.

While in the country, the men forced her to take a "stupifying drink," she told officers. She was let out of the car unharmed twenty miles from Fergus Falls. Miss Rose said she believed her alleged kidnapers lost their nerve.

BRAINERD GREETS YOU, CROSBY, IRONTON, DEERWOOD AND AITKIN!

These greetings came to the people of the range towns and Aitkin from Brainerd through this city's mayor by air on the "Goodwill Flight" this afternoon.

"Greetings, friends. We count you people of Crosby, Ironton, Deerwood and Aitkin among our friends and neighbors. We wish to extend to you our hand of fellowship and hope that the good relations between Brainerd and the people of the Cuyuna Range and Aitkin will not only continue but improve. We wish you prosperity, good health and a bright future. If we can help you, call on us.

"FRANK E. LITTLE,
"Mayor of the City of Brainerd."

DECLARES HE CAN CAPTURE LIGHT FROM THE SUN

DR. WM. GEORGE SCHNELL POSTPONES HIS DEMONSTRATION

RECENTLY FRACTURED NECK IN A MYSTERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—The collapse of Dr. William George Schnell, young scientist who claimed discovery of a method to capture light from the sun, today caused the postponement of a demonstration for university professors, newspaper men and others.

Dr. Schnell fainted last night after an injection of serum as treatment for a fractured vertebrae he suffered several months ago in a mysterious automobile wreck. He said he planned to conduct the experiment, intended for this afternoon, within a few days.

The scientists' neck was broken when a car in which he was riding was forced to the curb and overturned. The other machine sped on.

His process of producing light without the aid of power was said to represent a compound of certain minerals and oils which captured the sun's rays when exposed to daylight. Dr. Schnell said radium was an active principle in the compound, but denied the presence of phosphorous.

Just how the scientist will conduct the experiment was a mystery, but he expressed confidence that he could prove his contentions under the scrutiny of experts.

"In simple terms I have discovered the atoms which compose the sun and I have incorporated them in my compounds," he said. "When this is exposed to the sun there is a natural affinity and light is regenerated in the compound. The strength of the light can be regulated by changing the compound and by limiting the exposure."

CROSBY MINER HURT BY FALLING TIMBER

WIFE'S COURT ORDER TO HOLD UP HAWKS' EASTWARD FLIGHT

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Captain Frank Hawks, who yesterday set a new transcontinental east-west flight record, was served today with a court order which will prevent his proposed take-off Sunday for New York in an attempt to break the exisiting west-east mark.

The order called for the aviator's appearance in court Monday to show why he has not paid a $10,635.69 judgment awarded his former wife, Mrs. Newell Vaughan, at the close of a hearing last April.

In winning the judgment, Mrs Vaughan, who divorced Hawks in 1924, contended successfully in superior court that Hawks had failed to pay money she had given him before and after their marriage.

O'Brine, Jackson Getting Along Nicely in Flight

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—The endurance monoplane "Greater St. Louis," piloted by Forest O'Brine and Dale Jackson, swooped low over Lambert municipal field today when it passed its 407th hour aloft at 6:11 a. m. CST. The flyers reported everything going nicely.

TAXICAB DRIVER GETS NEW JOB IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Que., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Like any other taxicab driver, Jean Paul De Patie has been called upon to do some strange things. But the assignment he got from Mrs. Herold Brown was one of the strangest.

"Did you call a taxi?" inquired Jean as the woman answered his ring at the door.

"Yes, come quickly," said Mrs. Brown. "My husband has hanged himself in the back yard."

Jean rushed to the rear, whipped out his pocket knife, and cut down the gasping spouse, who was just losing consciousness.

Brown recovered, but Jean couldn't understand why Mrs. Brown hadn't called a policeman or an ambulance.

"I thought a taxicab would get here sooner," she explained.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD TO AID STRICKEN FARMERS

TO LEND MONEY TO FARMERS IN DROUGHT-STRICKEN AREA

PERMITTING THEM TO PURCHASE FEED FOR LIVESTOCK

Washington, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—The federal farm board today announced it would lend money to farmers in the drought-stricken areas to permit them to purchase feed for livestock.

Under the plan it has formulated, farmers and business men in stricken areas will form local co-operative agencies for borrowing money from the farm board through its grain stabilization corporation.

While the farm board was announcnig its farm relief plan President Hoover conferred at length on the drought situation with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. At the conclusion of the discussion Hyde announced that the White House would dispatch today a telegraphic questionaire to every county farm agent in the entire country in an attempt to measure the exact damage of the drought and to determine means to alleviate the situation.

TOUR SPONSORED BY MONARCH FOOD SHIP AND DAILY DISPATCH

INTENDED TO CEMENT GOOD RELATIONS BETWEEN BRAINERD AND RANGE TOWNS

TRI-MOTORED PLANES DROP IN AT AITKIN WHILE CITIZENS EXCHANGE HANDSHAKES

Brainerd's Goodwill Flight was on this afternoon.

It was being sponsored by the Reid, Murdoch Co. and the Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

Four neighboring towns were included on the itinerary of the flight. Greetings from the air were extended to Crosby, Ironton and Deerwood by the city of Brainerd talking through the Brainerd Daily Dispatch. Copies of this good-will issue were sent fluttering over the towns. The tri-mofored Monarch Food Ship, "Independence," piloted by "Crazy" Johns, internationally known aviator, accompanied by the Ford tri-motored plane piloted by "Thunder" Johnson, carrying Brainerd citizens, then were to fly to Aitkin where they will land, before returning here.

At Aitkin, Mayor E. A. Weisbeck will be on hand and other citizens to receive the greetings by word of mouth from Mayor F. E. Little, Brainerd.

Cementing of good relations between the neighboring towns and Brainerd was the object of the flight.

The flight was also part of a miniature air derby in Brainerd today.

"Ace" Waldon, stunt flier and parachute jumper, flew a plane to Brainerd this morning with the two trimotors.

The ships were met at the Rosko Airport by a large number of Brainerd people.

Tonight at 7 o'clock "Ace" Waldon will do his triple parachute jump, opening three different parachutes in the descent, first a red one, then a white one and then a blue one.

After the thrilling jump, "Fighting Bob" Nesbitt, sales promotion manager of Reid, Murdoch & Co., will compare Brainerd with other cities of its size in the nation and will compliment the Rosko brothers on the fine airport established here.

Nesbitt is widely known as a speaker. He asserted this morning that the local airport was only surpassed in accomodations and landing field by those in air line terminals.

Johns, who registered at the New Brainerd hotel this morning, gave his address as "from everywhere." Since he visited Brainerd last October he flew 50,000 miles, covering all states on the east and west coast.

Throughout his flights he carries his mascot, "Cocoa," the world's most travelled dog, a Boston terrier, who has covered 70,000 miles in the air and has had 500 hours' flying experience.

The flight to Brainerd by the food ship was made possible by S. P. Stevens, vice president and general manager of Reid, Murdoch Co., Chicago.

Mr. Stevens made the flight to Brainerd last year and was so impressed with the city and reception here that he willingly gave his consent to a return flight this year.

Hoover to Spend Week End in Mountain Camp

Washington, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—President Hoover will go to his Virginia mountain camp tomorrow for a week end that probably will be devoted to conferring with republican leaders.

NEW RECORD SOUGHT IN FAST CARRYING OF TODAY'S ISSUE

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch contemplates the setting today of a new record in fast distribution of papers from its press to the Cuyuna Range and Aitkin territories.

Shortly after 4 p. m. the Ford trimotored plane, "Independence," the property of the Reid-Murdoch Co., loaded with Dispatches, will take off from the Rosko airport for Crosby, Ironton and Aitkin.

"Crazy" Johns, the pilot, says he can reach the range towns from Brainerd a distance of approximately 16 miles "as the crow flies" in ten minutes.

ALLEGED SCOTCH WHISKY WAS ONLY IODINE AND WATER

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—The footlegger who sold Ramon Torres what he alleged was pure Scotch whisky found himself confronted today with a charge of misrepresenting goods.

The "Scotch" was nothing but iodine and water, Torres found, and he had the bootlegger arrested. Instead of charging him with violating prohibition laws, Torres prefrred charges of misrepresentation.

BRINGING FOREST BLAZES UNDER CONTROL IN WEST

San Francisco, Aug. 7—(U.P.)—Armies of wearied men that for the past five days have fought fires along the Pacific coast today rested as the various conflagrations except one were brought under control.

At Albany, Oregon, a blaze a mile long and a quarter of that distance in width continued to sweep through the green timber lands of the Santiam forest between the fork of the Humburg creek and the Breitenbuch river.

More than 200 men rushed to the scene when fire was discovered shortly after noon yesterday. The fact that the blazes started in three separate places at a great distance apart led to the belief that an incendiary had been at work.

In California flames that had swept bare sections of Butte, Fresno and Humbolt counties were stamped out after a long struggle.

PROBE DEATH OF HARRY HAUSER AT LAKE CITY

BODY OF ROCKFORD, ILL., MAN RECOVERED FROM BATHING BEACH

UNCONFIRMED RUMORS SAID MAN WAS ILLINOIS GANGSTER

Lake City, Minn., Aug. 7. — (U.P.) — Representatives of the Minnesota bureau of criminal apprehension today were investigating the death of Harry Hauser, Rockford, Ill., whose body was recovered from the bathing beach along the Mississippi river late yesterday.

Pending a coroner's inquest late today or tomorrow, a series of unconfirmed rumors said the man was an Illinois gangster who had died here under mysterious circumstances.

Deputy Coroner W. S. O'Flaherty of Wabasha was to arrive in Lake City late today.

Hauser was said to have registered at the bath house at Lake City Tuesday. In his locker was found a gold watch and money amounting to more than $50.

Investigators were mystified because there were no traces of shot wounds on the body and apparently the man had been drowned. An autopsy was being held to determine, if possible, the actual cause of the man's death.

The body was recovered by Willard Peterson, beach guard. It was still clad in a bathing suit when taken from the water.

Shouts from near the beach were reported by neighbors today when it became known that the body had been recovered. The residents near the beach said they thought nothing of the occurrence because frequently night bathers visit the beach.

Minneapolis, Aug. 7.—(U.P.) — Archbishop Austin Dowling today told the Catholic Order of Foresters convention that the laity was entitled to praise for its work in church matters. Officers will be elected late today.

NATURE DESTROYS MILLIONS ACRES IN AMERICA

CASE OF OLD LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND STEPPING IN

BIGGEST GRAIN TRADING SESSION IN CHICAGO SINCE THE WORLD WAR

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Man and nature were at war today as the one sent soaring upward the prices of grains which the other was destroying by the millions of acres.

While the drought continues unabated in many sections of the midwestern corn belt, grain prices have risen to new heights on the Chicago Board of Trade, which was swept yesterday by a great wave of buying. It was a case of the old law of supply and demand stepping in to give limited relief in a serious situation.

In one of the biggest grain trading sessions since the world war, corn yesterday went up more than 7 cents to $1.02 1-4 a bushel on the exchange and wheat climbed 6 cents, to $1.02 7-8, both passing the dollar mark for the first time in almost a year.

It was estimated the rapid upturn, brought about by desperation of traders buying while they could, had added more than a half million dollars in theoretical value to the farmers' products.

The estimates of the damage which the forces of nature have caused to the nation's crops within the last five weeks have been estimated at from one half billion to more than a billion dollars.

Although corn took the lead in the advance, other grains also showed big gains. Wheat closed 5 1-4 to 5 3-4 cents higher; oats 3 to 3½ cents higher, and rye, 5 3-4 to 6½ cents up.

The grain pits became a scene of wild disorder as prices soared. One trader remarked it was the first time since the bull markets of 1925 that the public had plunged into the market on a large scale.

Although Chicago was one of the coolest places in the country, the heat in the packed pits became stifling and the collars of grain brokers wilted as they worked feverishly during the heavy tradnig.

The wave of buying, brokers said, was not due to speculation, but was by a public that wanted grains and was taking advantage of an opportunity to get them. A single transaction, coming at the peak of the trading, covered a half million bushels of wheat and involved almost that many dollars.

Interest in the stock market lagged temporarily at least as all interest was centered upon the grains.

As the end of the day neared and the shouting in the corridors of the board of trade began dying out, there were minor recessions from the best figures of the day.

The close found September corn at $1.01 to $1.01 3-8; December 97 1-4 to 97½ cents; and March 99 7-8 to $1.00 1-8.

Prices at the top had been from 29 3-8 to 3- 1-4 cents higher than the season's low figures, which were established July 8.

With government reports stating the grain crops in many sections were beyond relief, prospects were the trading wave would continue today.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES SHOOT UP

Chicago, Aug. 7—More millions were added to the theoretical value of the nation's crops today when wheat and corn prices shot up unevenly at the opening of the Chicago board of trade.

Yesterday's spectacular advances, amounting to about $650,000,000, on reports of wider spread drought than had been anticipated continued when the gong sounded, March and May wheat making new highs for the year at $1.09 1-4 and $1.13 respectively.

Corn prices also went up from ½ to 2 7-8 cents with a flood of buying orders that had remained unfilled at the close.

March corn sold at $1.01 and May at $1.03½, remaining above the dollar mark which they had attained yesterday for the first time in months.

PROMISES OF RAIN, COOLING BREEZES

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Promises of rain and cooling breezes in scattered areas were the faint notes of optimism which today heartened millions of heat-plagued Americans struggling through one of the most disastrous summers in history.

The millions of farmers whose fields have been laid waste by heat and drought since July 1 also found some cause for rejoicing in suddenly increased grain prices whcih added millions of dollars to the theoretical value of their depleted crops.

Forecasts for today were there would be no great change in temperature throughout most of the country, although it was predicted showers again would fall in scattered areas.

Timber lands, dried out by the continued drought, flamed in Massachusetts, on the Pacific coast and in

Sen. Fess Named Permanent Chairman of G.O.P National Committee, C. H. Huston Resigning

ROBERT H. LUCAS NAMED 'EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR' OF BODY

GEORGE KEIM, OF EDGEWATER PARK, N. J., SLATED FOR SECRETARY

HUSTON RESIGNS, PLACES PARTY INTERESTS AHEAD OF OWN CONSIDERATIONS

Washington, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Claudius H. Huston submitted his resignation as chairman of the republican national committee today, and informed the executive committee, to whom he presented it, that he was resigning because he placed interests of the party ahead of personal considerations.

Immediately after the resignation was received Senator Fess of Ohio was elected by the 26 members of the executive committee to be chairman.

Robert H. Lucas, Louisville, Ky., was elected "executive director" of the executive committee. Lucas is commissioner of internal revenue.

He will serve at headquarters in a capacity similar to that of Col. Shouse for the democrats.

In his statement submitting his resignation and making way for election of Senator Fess as chairman in his place, Huston said:

"In the past it has been the policy of the party leaders to maintain a solid front when under the enemy fire, but as this has not been the policy in the present case I have reached the conclusion, putting the interests of the republican party ahead of personal consideration, that I should tender my resignation for I am wholly unwilling to be accused of imposing any burdens personal to me upon the party during the coming senatorial and congressional campaign.

Washington, Aug. 7.—George Keim, Edgewater Park, N. J., is slated to be chosen secretary of the republican national committee at the executive committee meeting today, it was learned authoritatively. Keim, who has been influential in securing contributions to republican campaigns, will succeed Representative Franklin Fort, republican, New Jersey, who retired some months ago.

Nesbitt is widely known as a speaker. He asserted this morning that the local airport was only surpassed in accomodations and landing field by those in air line terminals.

Johns, who registered at the New Brainerd hotel this morning, gave his address as "from everywhere." Since he visited Brainerd last October he flew 50,000 miles, covering all states on the east and west coast.

Throughout his flights he carries his mascot, "Cocoa," the world's most travelled dog, a Boston terrier, who has covered 70,000 miles in the air and has had 500 hours' flying experience.

The flight to Brainerd by the food ship was made possible by S. P. Stevens, vice president and general manager of Reid, Murdoch Co., Chicago.

Mr. Stevens made the flight to Brainerd last year and was so impressed with the city and reception here that he willingly gave his consent to a return flight this year.

NEW RECORD SOUGHT IN FAST CARRYING OF TODAY'S ISSUE

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch contemplates the setting today of a new record in fast distribution of papers from its press to the Cuyuna Range and Aitkin territories.

Shortly after 4 p. m. the Ford trimotored plane, "Independence," the property of the Reid-Murdoch Co., loaded with Dispatches, will take off from the Rosko airport for Crosby, Ironton and Aitkin.

"Crazy" Johns, the pilot, says he can reach the range towns from Brainerd a distance of approximately 16 miles "as the crow flies" in ten minutes.

ALLEGED SCOTCH WHISKY WAS ONLY IODINE AND WATER

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—The footlegger who sold Ramon Torres what he alleged was pure Scotch whisky found himself confronted today with a charge of misrepresenting goods.

The "Scotch" was nothing but iodine and water, Torres found, and he had the bootlegger arrested. Instead of charging him with violating prohibition laws, Torres prefrred charges of misrepresentation.

BRINGING FOREST BLAZES UNDER CONTROL IN WEST

San Francisco, Aug. 7—(U.P.)—Armies of wearied men that for the past five days have fought fires along the Pacific coast today rested as the various conflagrations except one were brought under control.

At Albany, Oregon, a blaze a mile long and a quarter of that distance in width continued to sweep through the green timber lands of the Santiam forest between the fork of the Humburg creek and the Breitenbuch river.

More than 200 men rushed to the scene when fire was discovered shortly after noon yesterday. The fact that the blazes started in three separate places at a great distance apart led to the belief that an incendiary had been at work.

In California flames that had swept bare sections of Butte, Fresno and Humbolt counties were stamped out after a long struggle.

UNCONFIRMED RUMORS SAID MAN WAS ILLINOIS GANGSTER

Lake City, Minn., Aug. 7. — (U.P.) — Representatives of the Minnesota bureau of criminal apprehension today were investigating the death of Harry Hauser, Rockford, Ill., whose body was recovered from the bathing beach along the Mississippi river late yesterday.

Pending a coroner's inquest late today or tomorrow, a series of unconfirmed rumors said the man was an Illinois gangster who had died here under mysterious circumstances.

Deputy Coroner W. S. O'Flaherty of Wabasha was to arrive in Lake City late today.

Hauser was said to have registered at the bath house at Lake City Tuesday. In his locker was found a gold watch and money amounting to more than $50.

Investigators were mystified because there were no traces of shot wounds on the body and apparently the man had been drowned. An autopsy was being held to determine, if possible, the actual cause of the man's death.

The body was recovered by Willard Peterson, beach guard. It was still clad in a bathing suit when taken from the water.

Shouts from near the beach were reported by neighbors today when it became known that the body had been recovered. The residents near the beach said they thought nothing of the occurrence because frequently night bathers visit the beach.

Minneapolis, Aug. 7.—(U.P.) — Archbishop Austin Dowling today told the Catholic Order of Foresters convention that the laity was entitled to praise for its work in church matters. Officers will be elected late today.

NATURE DESTROYS MILLIONS ACRES IN AMERICA

BIGGEST GRAIN TRADING SESSION IN CHICAGO SINCE THE WORLD WAR

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Man and nature were at war today as the one sent soaring upward the prices of grains which the other was destroying by the millions of acres.

While the drought continues unabated in many sections of the midwestern corn belt, grain prices have risen to new heights on the Chicago Board of Trade, which was swept yesterday by a great wave of buying. It was a case of the old law of supply and demand stepping in to give limited relief in a serious situation.

In one of the biggest grain trading sessions since the world war, corn yesterday went up more than 7 cents to $1.02 1-4 a bushel on the exchange and wheat climbed 6 cents, to $1.07 7-8, both passing the dollar mark for the first time in almost a year.

It was estimated the rapid upturn, brought about by desperation of traders buying while they could, had added more than a half million dollars in theoretical value to the farmers' products.

The estimates of the damage which the forces of nature have caused to the nation's crops within the last five weeks have been estimated at from one half billion to more than a billion dollars.

Although corn took the lead in the advance, other grains also showed big gains. Wheat closed 5 1-4 to 5 3-4 cents higher; oats 3 to 3½ cents higher, and rye, 5 3-4 to 6½ cents up.

The grain pits became a scene of wild disorder as prices soared. One trader remarked it was the first time since the bull markets of 1925 that the public had plunged into the market on a large scale.

Although Chicago was one of the coolest places in the country, the heat in the packed pits became stifling and the collars of grain brokers wilted as they worked feverishly during the heavy tradnig.

The wave of buying, brokers said, was not due to speculation, but was by a public that wanted grains and was taking advantage of an opportunity to get them. A single transaction, coming at the peak of the trading, covered a half million bushels of wheat and involved almost that many dollars.

Interest in the stock market lagged temporarily at least as all interest was centered upon the grains.

As the end of the day neared and the shouting in the corridors of the board of trade began dying out, there were minor recessions from the best figures of the day.

The close found September corn at $1.01 to $1.01 3-8; December 97 1-4 to 97½ cents; and March 99 7-8 to $1.00 1-8.

Prices at the top had been from 29 3-8 to 3- 1-4 cents higher than the season's low figures, which were established July 8.

With government reports stating the grain crops in many sections were beyond relief, prospects were the trading wave would continue today.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES SHOOT UP

Chicago, Aug. 7—More millions were added to the theoretical value of the nation's crops today when wheat and corn prices shot up unevenly at the opening of the Chicago board of trade.

Yesterday's spectacular advances, amounting to about $650,000,000, on reports of wider spread drought than had been anticipated continued when the gong sounded, March and May wheat making new highs for the year at $1.09 1-4 and $1.13 respectively.

Corn prices also went up from ½ to 2 7-8 cents with a flood of buying orders that had remained unfilled at the close.

March corn sold at $1.01 and May at $1.03½, remaining above the dollar mark which they had attained yesterday for the first time in months.

PROMISES OF RAIN, COOLING BREEZES

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Promises of rain and cooling breezes in scattered areas were the faint notes of optimism which today heartened millions of heat-plagued Americans struggling through one of the most disastrous summers in history.

The millions of farmers whose fields have been laid waste by heat and drought since July 1 also found some cause for rejoicing in suddenly increased grain prices whcih added millions of dollars to the theoretical value of their depleted crops.

Forecasts for today were there would be no great change in temperature throughout most of the country, although it was predicted showers again would fall in scattered areas.

Timber lands, dried out by the continued drought, flamed in Massachusetts, on the Pacific coast and in

Sen. Fess Named Permanent Chairman of G.O.P National Committee, C. H. Huston Resigning

ROBERT H. LUCAS NAMED 'EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR' OF BODY

GEORGE KEIM, OF EDGEWATER PARK, N. J., SLATED FOR SECRETARY

HUSTON RESIGNS, PLACES PARTY INTERESTS AHEAD OF OWN CONSIDERATIONS

Washington, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Claudius H. Huston submitted his resignation as chairman of the republican national committee today, and informed the executive committee, to whom he presented it, that he was resigning because he placed interests of the party ahead of personal considerations.

Immediately after the resignation was received Senator Fess of Ohio was elected by the 26 members of the executive committee to be chairman.

Robert H. Lucas, Louisville, Ky., was elected "executive director" of the executive committee. Lucas is commissioner of internal revenue.

He will serve at headquarters in a capacity similar to that of Col. Shouse for the democrats.

In his statement submitting his resignation and making way for election of Senator Fess as chairman in his place, Huston said:

"In the past it has been the policy of the party leaders to maintain a solid front when under the enemy fire, but as this has not been the policy in the present case I have reached the conclusion, putting the interests of the republican party ahead of personal consideration, that I should tender my resignation for I am wholly unwilling to be accused of imposing any burdens personal to me upon the party during the coming senatorial and congressional campaign.

Washington, Aug. 7.—George Keim, Edgewater Park, N. J., is slated to be chosen secretary of the republican national committee at the executive committee meeting today, it was learned authoritatively. Keim, who has been influential in securing contributions to republican campaigns, will succeed Representative Franklin Fort, republican, New Jersey, who retired some months ago.

The statement has been made that barium is worth $12,000,000 an ounce, but not because of its scarcity or value—because of the work it does. Barium is a chemical element that is used to coat the filament of vacuum tubes with a saving of $400,000 per gram of barium used. At this rate an ounce would be worth $12,000,000.

String Around Your Finger

THE average husband has often sustained recollection of some errand or mission imposed by his wife by winding a piece of string around his finger. We do not know what relation string and a finger may have to matching a piece of dress goods or buying extra food supplies for the lake, but the practice continues and must have some merit.

A piece of string wound about her finger in 1918 started Mrs. Mary Lewis, proprietor of the Lewis hotel at Detroit Lakes on another tack and which gained her fame. Now that piece of string is a ball 140 miles long and weighing 42 pounds and Mrs. Lewis was recently featured in Ripley's Believe It or Not column. As Ripley's work is syndicated from coast to coast, Mrs. Lewis has gained wide fame.

Mail Order Cow Testing

MAIL order cow testing will be introduced soon in North Dakota, C. F. Monroe of the North Dakota agricultural college has announced.

Agricultural organizations hope to make cow testing almost universal through the new system. Many dairy men who were unable to join a cow testing organization previously due to scattered conditions are now expected to organize.

County agents will be in charge of the work. The cost of testing cows through the new system will be about 10 cents a cow per month.

SCATTERED SHOWERS, CLOUDY WEATHER

St. Paul, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Scattered showers and cloudy weather today brought slight relief to the heat and drought-ridden areas of the northwest.

With the exception of a few localized downpours, rain that fell over the northwest last night and today was insufficient to have a marked effect on burned pastures and ripening crops, U. S. forecasters declared.

Flax and potatoes, cash crops of thousands of Minnesota and North Dakota farmers were the center of attention today as reports of damaged and totally destroyed fields poured in. In many spots of North Dakota, flax has been totally destroyed by the drought, it was reported.

Potatoes in the Red River Valley were said to be in fair condition though immediate rain was needed over most of the district to prevent serious damage.

Temperatures were driven up over the northwest again yesterday, hitting a mark of 94 at Duluth and 93 at Minneapolis. Two were reported dead in drowning accidents and one died of a heat attack, thought to have been induced by the heat.

The dead:

Merle Hollis, 9, Duluth, drowned in a lake near his home.

Harold Bruchu, 9, drowned at Bass Lake near his home at Somerset, Wis.

Martin Hughes, 29, Crookston, died of heart attack induced by heat.

Aberdeen, S. D., was the center of a heavy cloud burst when two inches of rain fell late yesterday to end a drought which had threatened the city's water supplies.

"WHERE'S EMILY?"
by CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XLII.

AT LAST Stone rose, but Miss Wolcott said, hesitatingly:

I haven't yet told you what I want to tell you."

"Get on with it then," he returned, looking at his watch. He had already learned how to talk to this vacillating young woman.

"It's—it's about a sort of society—not society, but a band or a clique or something for—for forming a new race——"

"Let me help you," said Stone gently. "You've in mind a movement for an institution or community that shall have as its progenitors only the best and finest specimens of our young people, and they shall be held captive and made to become the fathers and mothers of a superior race of human beings that shall live in a sort of Utopia——"

"Yes, yes, how did you know?"

"I know all about that thing. It may be sincere in its intents, but it is not above suspicion in its ways and means. Now, you think that maybe Miss Duane was abducted for that purpose, and spirited away to the lair of these people and will never be seen or heard of again."

"Yes, Mr. Stone, yes. That's what I think, and you see, when they took her, Polly Pennington was with her, and they had to get rid of Polly, or she would tell on them."

"I see. Now, Miss Wolcott, dismiss all this from your mind; there's nothing in it. For, in the first place, they don't want young people of Miss Duane's type; they want large, handsome blondes, Nordics, the type that they have decided is best for this scheme of theirs. This is no disparagement to Miss Duane's beauty or charm, but I happen to know that she is one of the persons they would not select. And, another thing, no use painting them blacker than they are. I'm very sure they would not resort to murder, or to crime of any sort, other than their abductions, which they do not consider crime. If you'll take my advice, you'll not mention this theory to anybody else, for I assure you it is not the true one, and why stir up a hornet's nest over nothing at all? We're going to find Miss Duane, and you have already been of the greatest assistance to me. Now, will you let me linger here a moment to look at some of your interesting books, and then I will collect Miss Bailey and run along home."

As good as his word, Stone remained in the tiny library a few moments, and then reappeared, and he and Betty said good-by to their hostess and made their way back to Knollwood.

"You've learned something!" Betty exclaimed. "You don't have to tell me! You learned something important."

"I did, you little witch. How do you read me so well?"

"Oh, when a man is beaming all over with satisfaction, and impatient to get home and think it all over, it doesn't require second sight to gather that he achieved something worth while."

"You're perfectly right. Now, if you don't ask me what I learned you'll be a real angel."

"You wouldn't tell me if I did ask you," said Betty philosophically, "so what's the use?"

"No use, my child. Your friend, too, put forth a most amazing theory of Emily's disappearance."

"Yes, I know. The New Race."

"I thought you'd know about it. Miss Wolcott told you?"

"Yes, and I've heard of the ridiculous business elsewhere. I live in fear of being gobbled up by them."

"You're blonde enough," said Stone, critically, "but you're not big enough. They want young Amazons——"

"Don't talk about it. I think it's horrid. That isn't the help Jane gave you, is it?"

"No, that isn't the help Jane gave me. The help she gave me she didn't know she was giving."

"Well, I won't tease. I know you'll tell us when you get ready. And now can you get Emily back?"

"I hope so; I sincerely hope and believe so."

At Knollwood they found Abel Collins also the Reverend Mr. Garner.

And these two guests were engaged in a spirited discussion about the general character and spirit of Emily Duane.

Sayre had become so incensed at their remarks and insinuations that he had left the group and gone to the library, where Stone found him, idly looking over some illustrated papers.

"Cheer up, boy," he said, "brighter days are coming."

"I couldn't stand that old parson," Rodney exploded. "He insinuated the worst things about Emily."

"Such as?"

"Oh, you know her little foolishnesses about the wedding ceremony. She intended to omit the word 'obey' and she said she meant to keep her maiden name after we were married, and such matters. As if I cared. Probably she'd change her mind about it anyway. But that dreadful man implied that any girl who held such ideas was quite capable of throwing her friend down the ravine or anything else. I wanted to throttle him."

"I don't blame you," said Stone. "But let him go, and forget it. He isn't worth worrying over. Now, Sayre, I have to go to New York tomorrow. And I want you to hold the fort here."

"Of course; but what can I do?"

"Nothing but wait. And watch. I don't expect anything to break, but something might. As I told Betty Bailey, I have a glimmer of a gleam of light, but it's so faint I hardly dare call it a clue. Still, if I'm right, the end is in sight. And if I'm wrong, we have to begin all over again. I'd gladly tell you what it's all about, but it's wiser not to. You'd say so yourself, if you knew all. Now, I see your friend the parson is departing, so you wait a minute till he's really gone, then you go out and play with Betty and Pete and send Aunt Judy in here to me. I would converse with her."

Sayre did as he was told, and in a few minutes Aunt Judy came fluttering in, all excitement that she should have been summoned.

"Just a few minutes' chat, Mrs. Bell," Stone said, smiling at her. "I want you to tell me exactly all about the so-called Atlantic City pictures."

"Oh, those," and Aunt Judy looked a little disturbed.

"Yes, I can't think they were very terrible, were they?"

"Not really, but it seemed—well, I'll tell you all about it. You see, Emily and Pauline Pennington went down to Atlantic City for a week by themselves. Pauline had had one of her tantrums—I mean one of her nervous breakdowns—and Jim thought it would do her good to get a little change. He would have gone with her, but she wanted Emily, and Emily thought it rather a lark and said she'd go. So the two went, and they had a high old time. I don't know what possessed them, but they thought it would be fun to pretend Emily was married and Pauline was not. So they just changed names, and let it go at that. Nothing dreadful happened, except that they met the Swami."

"For the first time?"

"Yes, they had never seen him before, and he was holding meetings and they went, and somehow he spotted them as easy marks, and he attached himself, rather, and he got money from them for his cause. Well, then one day, he proposed they all have their pictures taken, and they did, Pauline and the Swami, and Emily and the Swami, and all three together. Then, and I never was sure it was the Swami's doing, but I strongly suspect it, the photographer took some trick pictures, as they call them. You see—and probably you know more about it than I do—they have a prepared plate or something, and a girl sits on a bench and has her picture taken, but when it is finished up there's a man on the bench also, with his arm around her."

"Yes, I know, a common game. And all right if done by the right people in the right spirit, but a dangerous weapon in the hands of sharpers or blackmailers."

"Yes, so it proved. The photographer's agent—but I think it was the Swami's agent—came to them several times and demanded money or he would put the pictures in the paper. He only asked small sums, so Emily and Pauline paid him, but they were glad to get home and get out of his clutches."

"He never bothered them after they came home, then?"

"No. I suppose they learned that the girls had plenty of protection here. But since Emily's gone, that Lal Singh is eternally throwing out hints about those pictures."

"Leave him to me. If he says another word about them, I'll settle with him. Wasn't Mr. Pennington annoyed at his wife's foolishness?"

"At first, yes, but Jim's rather happy-go-lucky, and he knew Polly meant no harm. Their crowd is always cutting up didoes of some sort. You know what the young people of today are."

"Yes, I know what they are. But you don't count the Penningtons among the flapper crowd?"

"No, nor Emily, either, for that matter. But the younger married set and Emily's set have pretty much mingled, until they're like one crowd. The lines are not drawn hard and fast in Hilldale."

"Well, Mrs. Bell, I have to go to New York tomorrow, and I do hope that I can unearth some facts there that will help us. I am almost certain I am on the right track, and if so, it's only a question of time before we have Emily back home. I don't think anything will happen, but if it should be ready for any emergency."

String Around Your Finger

THE average husband has often sustained recollection of some errand or mission imposed by his wife by winding a piece of string around his finger. We do not know what relation string and a finger may have to matching a piece of dress goods or buying extra food supplies for the lake, but the practice continues and must have some merit.

A piece of string wound about her finger in 1918 started Mrs. Mary Lewis, proprietor of the Lewis hotel at Detroit Lakes on another tack and which gained her fame. Now that piece of string is a ball 140 miles long and weighing 42 pounds and Mrs. Lewis was recently featured in Ripley's Believe It or Not column. As Ripley's work is syndicated from coast to coast, Mrs. Lewis has gained wide fame.

Mail Order Cow Testing

MAIL order cow testing will be introduced soon in North Dakota, C. F. Monroe of the North Dakota agricultural college has announced.

Agricultural organizations hope to make cow testing almost universal through the new system. Many dairy men who were unable to join a cow testing organization previously due to scattered conditions are now expected to organize.

County agents will be in charge of the work. The cost of testing cows through the new system will be about 10 cents a cow per month.

SCATTERED SHOWERS, CLOUDY WEATHER

St. Paul, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Scattered showers and cloudy weather today brought slight relief to the heat and drought-ridden areas of the northwest.

With the exception of a few localized downpours, rain that fell over the northwest last night and today was insufficient to have a marked effect on burned pastures and ripening crops, U. S. forecasters declared.

Flax and potatoes, cash crops of thousands of Minnesota and North Dakota farmers were the center of attention today as reports of damaged and totally destroyed fields poured in. In many spots of North Dakota, flax has been totally destroyed by the drought, it was reported.

Potatoes in the Red River Valley were said to be in fair condition though immediate rain was needed over most of the district to prevent serious damage.

Temperatures were driven up over the northwest again yesterday, hitting a mark of 94 at Duluth and 93 at Minneapolis. Two were reported dead in drowning accidents and one died of a heat attack, thought to have been induced by the heat.

The dead:

Merle Hollis, 9, Duluth, drowned in a lake near his home.

Harold Bruchu, 9, drowned at Bass Lake near his home at Somerset, Wis.

Martin Hughes, 29, Crookston, died of heart attack induced by heat.

Aberdeen, S. D., was the center of a heavy cloud burst when two inches of rain fell late yesterday to end a drought which had threatened the city's water supplies.

"WHERE'S EMILY?"
by CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XLII.

AT LAST Stone rose, but Miss Wolcott said, hesitatingly:

I haven't yet told you what I want to tell you."

"Get on with it then," he returned, looking at his watch. He had already learned how to talk to this vacillating young woman.

"It's—it's about a sort of society—not society, but a band or a clique or something for—for forming a new race——"

"Let me help you," said Stone gently. "You've in mind a movement for an institution or community that shall have as its progenitors only the best and finest specimens of our young people, and they shall be held captive and made to become the fathers and mothers of a superior race of human beings that shall live in a sort of Utopia——"

"Yes, yes, how did you know?"

"I know all about that thing. It may be sincere in its intents, but it is not above suspicion in its ways and means. Now, you think that maybe Miss Duane was abducted for that purpose, and spirited away to the lair of these people and will never be seen or heard of again."

"Yes, Mr. Stone, yes. That's what I think, and you see, when they took her, Polly Pennington was with her, and they had to get rid of Polly, or she would tell on them."

"I see. Now, Miss Wolcott, dismiss all this from your mind; there's nothing in it. For, in the first place, they don't want young people of Miss Duane's type; they want large, handsome blondes, Nordics, the type that they have decided is best for this scheme of theirs. This is no disparagement to Miss Duane's beauty or charm, but I happen to know that she is one of the persons they would not select. And, another thing, no use painting them blacker than they are. I'm very sure they would not resort to murder, or to crime of any sort, other than their abductions, which they do not consider crime. If you'll take my advice, you'll not mention this theory to anybody else, for I assure you it is not the true one, and why stir up a hornet's nest over nothing at all? We're going to find Miss Duane, and you have already been of the greatest assistance to me. Now, will you let me linger here a moment to look at some of your interesting books, and then I will collect Miss Bailey and run along home."

As good as his word, Stone remained in the tiny library a few moments, and then reappeared, and he and Betty said good-by to their hostess and made their way back to Knollwood.

"You've learned something!" Betty exclaimed. "You don't have to tell me! You learned something important."

"I did, you little witch. How do you read me so well?"

"Oh, when a man is beaming all over with satisfaction, and impatient to get home and think it all over, it doesn't require second sight to gather that he achieved something worth while."

"You're perfectly right. Now, if you don't ask me what I learned you'll be a real angel."

"You wouldn't tell me if I did ask you," said Betty philosophically, "so what's the use?"

"No use, my child. Your friend, too, put forth a most amazing theory of Emily's disappearance."

"Yes, I know. The New Race."

"I thought you'd know about it. Miss Wolcott told you?"

"Yes, and I've heard of the ridiculous business elsewhere. I live in fear of being gobbled up by them."

"You're blonde enough," said Stone, critically, "but you're not big enough. They want young Amazons——"

"Don't talk about it. I think it's horrid. That isn't the help Jane gave you, is it?"

"No, that isn't the help Jane gave me. The help she gave me she didn't know she was giving."

"Well, I won't tease. I know you'll tell us when you get ready. And now can you get Emily back?"

"I hope so; I sincerely hope and believe so."

At Knollwood they found Abel Collins also the Reverend Mr. Garner.

And these two guests were engaged in a spirited discussion about the general character and spirit of Emily Duane.

Sayre had become so incensed at their remarks and insinuations that he had left the group and gone to the library, where Stone found him, idly looking over some illustrated papers.

"Cheer up, boy," he said, "brighter days are coming."

"Such as?"

"Oh, you know her little foolishnesses about the wedding ceremony. She intended to omit the word 'obey' and she said she meant to keep her maiden name after we were married, and such matters. As if I cared. Probably she'd change her mind about it anyway. But that dreadful man implied that any girl who held such ideas was quite capable of throwing her friend down the ravine or anything else. I wanted to throttle him."

"I don't blame you," said Stone. "But let him go, and forget it. He isn't worth worrying over. Now, Sayre, I have to go to New York tomorrow. And I want you to hold the fort here."

"Of course; but what can I do?"

"Nothing but wait. And watch. I don't expect anything to break, but something might. As I told Betty Bailey, I have a glimmer of a gleam of light, but it's so faint I hardly dare call it a clue. Still, if I'm right, the end is in sight. And if I'm wrong, we have to begin all over again. I'd gladly tell you what it's all about, but it's wiser not to. You'd say so yourself, if you knew all. Now, I see your friend the parson is departing, so you wait a minute till he's really gone, then you go out and play with Betty and Pete and send Aunt Judy in here to me. I would converse with her."

Sayre did as he was told, and in a few minutes Aunt Judy came fluttering in, all excitement that she should have been summoned.

"Just a few minutes' chat, Mrs. Bell," Stone said, smiling at her. "I want you to tell me exactly all about the so-called Atlantic City pictures."

"Oh, those," and Aunt Judy looked a little disturbed.

"Yes, I can't think they were very terrible, were they?"

"Not really, but it seemed—well, I'll tell you all about it. You see, Emily and Pauline Pennington went down to Atlantic City for a week by themselves. Pauline had had one of her tantrums—I mean one of her nervous breakdowns—and Jim thought it would do her good to get a little change. He would have gone with her, but she wanted Emily, and Emily thought it rather a lark and said she'd go. So the two went, and they had a high old time. I don't know what possessed them, but they thought it would be fun to pretend Emily was married and Pauline was not. So they just changed names, and let it go at that. Nothing dreadful happened, except that they met the Swami."

"For the first time?"

"Yes, they had never seen him before, and he was holding meetings and they went, and somehow he spotted them as easy marks, and he attached himself, rather, and he got money from them for his cause. Well, then one day, he proposed they all have their pictures taken, and they did, Pauline and the Swami, and Emily and the Swami, and all three together. Then, and I never was sure it was the Swami's doing, but I strongly suspect it, the photographer took some trick pictures, as they call them. You see—and probably you know more about it than I do—they have a prepared plate or something, and a girl sits on a bench and has her picture taken, but when it is finished up there's a man on the bench also, with his arm around her."

"Yes, I know, a common game. And all right if done by the right people in the right spirit, but a dangerous weapon in the hands of sharpers or blackmailers."

"Yes, so it proved. The photographer's agent—but I think it was the Swami's agent—came to them several times and demanded money or he would put the pictures in the paper. He only asked small sums, so Emily and Pauline paid him, but they were glad to get home and get out of his clutches."

"He never bothered them after they came home, then?"

"No. I suppose they learned that the girls had plenty of protection here. But since Emily's gone, that Lal Singh is eternally throwing out hints about those pictures."

"Leave him to me. If he says another word about them, I'll settle with him. Wasn't Mr. Pennington annoyed at his wife's foolishness?"

"At first, yes, but Jim's rather happy-go-lucky, and he knew Polly meant no harm. Their crowd is always cutting up didoes of some sort. You know what the young people of today are."

"Yes, I know what they are. But you don't count the Penningtons among the flapper crowd?"

"No, nor Emily, either, for that matter. But the younger married set and Emily's set have pretty much mingled, until they're like one crowd. The lines are not drawn hard and fast in Hilldale."

"Well, Mrs. Bell, I have to go to New York tomorrow, and I do hope that I can unearth some facts there that will help us. I am almost certain I am on the right track, and if so, it's only a question of time before we have Emily back home. I admit I have never been so baffled by a case before, but I am making no apologies. I am doing my best. I am in no way interfering with the work of the police. And if all goes well, I hope and expect to succeed in my quest before very long. While I am in New York—I'll be back by tea time—please keep your eyes and ears open. KID CHOCOLATE AND BERG SLUG TOE TO TOE TONIGHT

CUBAN NEGRO TO FACE YOUNG AMBITIOUS JEW

EVEN MOST CYNICAL FIGHT FAN BELIEVES THIS WILL BE REAL SCRAP

WILL INSURE PATRONS THEIR MONEY'S WORTH AT FISTIC BATTLE

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 7.—A slender little Cuban negro, who has never been licked in 168 professional fights, and a sturdy, ambitious young Hebrew from the rough and tumble Whitechapel section of London will battle through ten rounds, or less, at the Polo Grounds tonight.

The really remarkable thing about this bout between Kid Chocolate and Jack (Kid) Berg is that even the most cynical boxing fan, disillusioned by repeated disappointments in fistic affairs, believes this meeting between the two aspirants for the lightweight championship is going to be a real scrap.

After what transpired when Al Singer took the title away from what remained of Sammy Mandell last month, such confidence certainly deserves to be more than its own reward, and there is every reason to believe that Chocolat and Berg will, for once, give boxing fans their money's worth.

As for the outcome of the bout, that is pleasingly uncertain. Berg will have nearly a 10-pound pull in the weights. The Londoner is a tireless, mauling type of fighter, with no science and possesses no real punch. Chocolate, on the other hand, is the cleverest man, pound for pound, in the ring today, and a sharp hitter as well. Whether he can give away ten pounds and stand off a fighter of the rushing, two-fisted type he must meet tonight remains to be seen.

Berg, because of the weight advantage and the belief that he can baffle Chocolate by his steadfast, whirlwind attack, is a slight favorite. The odds are said to be 6 to 5 on the Englishman. But there will be little money bet at better than even money, for Chocolate, lithe, expert on defense and attack, with one of the coolest heads of all the present day boxing generals, has a host of confident followers.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Fidel Labarba of California, former world flyweight champion, will make his bid for recognition as the foremost contender for the featherweight title, in a 10-round bout with Earl Mastro of Chicago, at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Labarba, Mastro, Kid Chocolate and Champion Bat Battalino are rated as the leaders of the featherweight class, with the champion regarded as a weak fourth. Chocolate has deserted the 126-pound division to try for the lightweight title and unless he suffers a setback in his match with Kid Berg at New York tonight, the winner of the Mastro-Labarba bout probably will get the first chance at Battalino's title.

Mastro and Labarba have met twice before, each winning one decision and there is little to choose between the two on comparative records. Mastro was an early favorite in the betting but the odds are close and it is probable that the fighters will enter the ring at even money.

BROOKLYN IN A GAME WITH PITTSBURGH CREW

CHICAGO CUBS LOSE VALUABLE GAME IN RACE, DROP 4 TO 3 GAME TO CARDS

PINCH-HITTER WATKINS WON GAME WITH FLUKE HOMER, MATE ON BASE

(By UNITED PRESS)

With the grand opening of the fifth and next to last intersectional series of the baseball season set for tomorrow, only four major league games were scheduled today. All major league contenders except the New York Giants, however, were billed for action as follows:

American league:
Philadelphia at Washington.
Boston at New York.
National league:
Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.
Chicago at St. Louis.

With a 3½ game lead over the second place Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn engaged the Pirates in the second game of the national league leaders' final western journey, having stolen a march on the other eastern clubs by opening the trip yesterday with a 7 to 4 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Chicago Cubs lost a valuable game in the race by dropping a 4 to 3 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals. Pinch-hitter Watkins' won the game with a fluke homer with a mate on base in the 7th inning. The Cubs filled the bases in the ninth but Jim Lindsey fanned Grimm and Hartnett to end the game.

Philadelphia had its lead in the American league reduced to 6½ games when the Senators beat the Athletics, 5-1. Sad Sam Jones outpitched George Earnshaw, allowing the A's only six hits.

With Lou Gehrig coming out of his batting slump with a triple and single, the New York Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, and reduced the gap between first place to 9 games.

George Uhle pitched and batted Detroit to a 9 to 1 victory over Cleveland. Uhle made three singles and a double, while holding the Indians to four hits.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox divided a double-header. Coffman pitching the Browns to a 5-0 victory in the first game and Red Faber winning the nightcap for the White Sox, 5-2.

Three runs in the ninth enabled the Boston Braves to trim the Phillies, 5-4, in the other national league contest.

Indianapolis, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Ed Holley performed well under the moon and floodlights here last night to pitch the Kansas City Blues to a 3 to 1 decision over Indianapolis.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Although hard hit throughout, Roy Wilkinson went the route for Louisville here yesterday and finally succeeded in pulling the league leaders through for an 8 to 7 victory over Milwaukee.

Toledo, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—A tenth-inning hit to center field with the bases loaded gave Toledo a 3 to 2 victory over Minneapolis here yesterday. Henline clouted out the winning safety.

Columbus, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Allowing Columbus batters only five scattered hits, Walter Betts pitched St. Paul to a shut-out 6 to 0 victory here yesterday.

Our "Horizontal" Champs

By HARDIN BURNLEY

© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

SO-CALLED smart management has done, and is doing, much to keep professional pugilism in a decidedly putrid state. The most obvious, and not the least objectionable, product of this same smart management is the all too large crop of "horizontal champions" who give to many current ring titles odors of decay even more obnoxious than that of the traditional cheese.

Smart management is responsible among other things for those over-weight matches in which a champion (?) puts his title in his money box so that, even if he is soundly whipped, he can still cash in on it.

Recently Young Corbett III of Fresno was compelled to come in over the 147 pound welter limit so that new champion, Young Jackie Thompson, would not risk his tinsel crown. Corbett gave Thompson a real whipping, knocking him down for the count of nine in the ninth round. But that win decision did not make the Fresno southpaw champion, no more than a similar verdict did when he whipped the then welter king, Jackie Fields, about four months previous. On that occasion Corbett III was also required to come in "over weight."

Smart management did much to insure Max Schmeling the world's heavyweight crown when he went down after being hit low by Jack Sharkey, who had been giving the German a boxing lesson well into the fourth round.

Remember Joe Jacobs' battle cry then? "Don't get up, Max; don't get up!" And down he stayed, while Jacobs jumped into the ring and chattered with the referee until the lone judge, who saw the foul, brought about that technical victory verdict.

That was the apotheosis of "smot" management. It has finally produced a "horizontal" king of fistic kings!

Management, usually associated with a sharper adjective than "smart," has often been identified with ring stars of the past as well as present. Alas, many things besides Primo Carnera's popover parade deserve severely just scrutiny in this prosperous era of "horizontal champs."

(By UNITED PRESS)

With the grand opening of the fifth and next to last intersectional series of the baseball season set for tomorrow, only four major league games were scheduled today. All major league contenders except the New York Giants, however, were billed for action as follows:

American league:
Philadelphia at Washington.
Boston at New York.
National league:
Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.
Chicago at St. Louis.

With a 3½ game lead over the second place Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn engaged the Pirates in the second game of the national league leaders' final western journey, having stolen a march on the other eastern clubs by opening the trip yesterday with a 7 to 4 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Chicago Cubs lost a valuable game in the race by dropping a 4 to 3 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals. Pinch-hitter Watkins' won the game with a fluke homer with a mate on base in the 7th inning. The Cubs filled the bases in the ninth but Jim Lindsey fanned Grimm and Hartnett to end the game.

Philadelphia had its lead in the American league reduced to 6½ games when the Senators beat the Athletics, 5-1. Sad Sam Jones outpitched George Earnshaw, allowing the A's only six hits.

With Lou Gehrig coming out of his batting slump with a triple and single, the New York Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 4-2, and reduced the gap between first place to 9 games.

George Uhle pitched and batted Detroit to a 9 to 1 victory over Cleveland. Uhle made three singles and a double, while holding the Indians to four hits.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox divided a double-header. Coffman pitching the Browns to a 5-0 victory in the first game and Red Faber winning the nightcap for the White Sox, 5-2.

Three runs in the ninth enabled the Boston Braves to trim the Phillies, 5-4, in the other national league contest.

Indianapolis, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Ed Holley performed well under the moon and floodlights here last night to pitch the Kansas City Blues to a 3 to 1 decision over Indianapolis.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Although hard hit throughout, Roy Wilkinson went the route for Louisville here yesterday and finally succeeded in pulling the league leaders through for an 8 to 7 victory over Milwaukee.

Toledo, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—A tenth-inning hit to center field with the bases loaded gave Toledo a 3 to 2 victory over Minneapolis here yesterday. Henline clouted out the winning safety.

Columbus, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Allowing Columbus batters only five scattered hits, Walter Betts pitched St. Paul to a shut-out 6 to 0 victory here yesterday.

Our "Horizontal" Champs

By HARDIN BURNLEY

© 1930, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

SO-CALLED smart management has done, and is doing, much to keep professional pugilism in a decidedly putrid state. The most obvious, and not the least objectionable, product of this same smart management is the all too large crop of "horizontal champions" who give to many current ring titles odors of decay even more obnoxious than that of the traditional cheese.

Smart management is responsible among other things for those over-weight matches in which a champion (?) puts his title in his money box so that, even if he is soundly whipped, he can still cash in on it.

Recently Young Corbett III of Fresno was compelled to come in over the 147 pound welter limit so that new champion, Young Jackie Thompson, would not risk his tinsel crown. Corbett gave Thompson a real whipping, knocking him down for the count of nine in the ninth round. But that win decision did not make the Fresno southpaw champion, no more than a similar verdict did when he whipped the then welter king, Jackie Fields, about four months previous. On that occasion Corbett III was also required to come in "over weight."

Smart management did much to insure Max Schmeling the world's heavyweight crown when he went down after being hit low by Jack Sharkey, who had been giving the German a boxing lesson well into the fourth round.

Remember Joe Jacobs' battle cry then? "Don't get up, Max; don't get up!" And down he stayed, while Jacobs jumped into the ring and chattered with the referee until the lone judge, who saw the foul, brought about that technical victory verdict.

That was the apotheosis of "smot" management. It has finally produced a "horizontal" king of fistic kings!

Management, usually associated with a sharper adjective than "smart," has often been identified with ring stars of the past as well as present. Alas, many things besides Primo Carnera's popover parade deserve severely just scrutiny in this prosperous era of "horizontal champs."

DURANT MOTORS TO BE ALLIED WITH EUROPEAN AUTOMOTIVE INTERESTS

INDUSTRIAL LEADER REFUSES TO FURTHER AMPLIFY STATEMENTS

Detroit, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—William C. Durant, financial genius who twice has headed General Motors, today appeared ready to step into the automotive industry limelight again.

Durant announced at Lansing that three chief executives of the Durant Motro Company would retire shortly and indicated that Durant Motors soon would be allied with strong European automotive interests.

He refused to amplify his statements before leaving for Covington, Ky., but is expected to return early next week, at which time details are to be made public.

Leaders of the automobile world and financial circles awaited impatinetly for Durant's next move. For a year and a half he has been more or less in the background, having turned over the direction of the company he controlled to others.

It was understood he will not assume active direction of his company now, although there has been no intimation as to who will replace these men who are to step aside. The retirement, within the next few weeks of A. I. Phillips, chairman of the board, Frederick J. Haynes, president, and J. A. Nichols, Jr., vice president, was Durant's principal announcement.

The three are stepping aside, it was believed, to make room for new men expected to come into the Durant organization through the alliance with European automobile manufacturers. They are retaining their Durant holdings.

While the report was not confirmed, it was believed the new Durant tie-up will result in the manufacture at Lansing of a small, low priced car to compete with the Austin, English designed automobile recently introduced to the American market. The Mathis, French made car, was mentioned in connection with the deal but there was nothing to confirm the rumor that Durant's tie-up was with this concern.

THE FUTURE MRS. MENCKEN HAS SAY ABOUT WEDDING

By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
United Press Correspondent

Baltimore, Aug. 7.—H. L. Mencken, whose blasts against matrimony made him America's best known bachelor not only is going to be married but it will be an old-fashioned wedding if his fiancee has anything to say about it. Indications today were that she would have considerable to say.

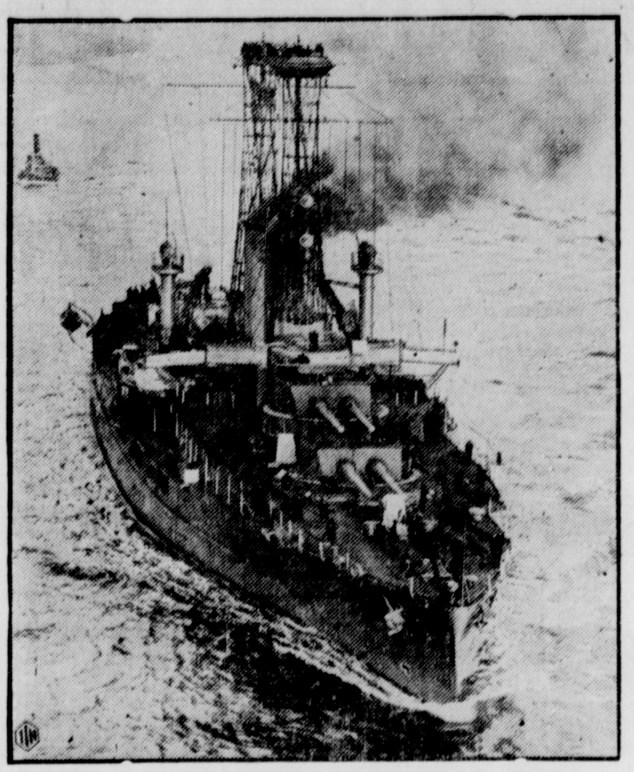

Miss Sara Powell Haardt, writer, who will marry Mencken on Sept. 3, revealed in an interview that she believed in the "old fashioned type of matrimony." He pronouncement on matrimony as compared with Mencken is an indication that the bellicose editor and author was in the process of eating all the fiery words he had uttered and written against crinoline romance and wedded bliss.

"I have no theories on marriage," Miss Haardt said. "I think it is largely an individual affair. However, none but the old-fashioned type of matrimony would appeal to me."

BRAINERD'S NEW COACH IN CITY

W. H. DAMMANN IS TO RETURN AGAIN AUG. 20 TO PREPARE FOR SCHOOL OPENING

W. H. Dammann, Brainerd high school's new coach, accompanied by his wife and six months old baby daughter, visited Brainerd today to arrange home quarters.

The new coach said he would return to the city again on August 20 when he will prepare for the opening of school.

Dammann is a graduate of Carleton College. During his four year's coachnig experience at Albert Lea, the high school basketball team won three district championships and the football team was undefeated in three years.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS GOLF COURSE AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Caddies with flash lights poked around in obscure corners of Eastwood Hills golf course here last night hunting little white balls which failed to follow the lighted fairways of the first daylight saving golf course in the middle west.

Hundreds of spectators followed the players last night as they drove, approached and putted under the 102 powerful floodlights which lined the course.

Aside from inability to judge distance properly on short shots, players said they encountered little difficulty in the night game. As long as the balls remained within the fairways, or fairly near, they were as easy to find as in the day time.

Dolores Del Rio, Husband Leave on Their Honeymoon

CARNERA SAYS HE IS THROUGH WITH 'SET-UPS'

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Although Primo Carnera declares he is through fighting "set-ups" and willing to meet any heavyweight in the world it is doubtful that he will be given an opportunity to go through with his proposed fight at White Sox Park, Aug. 14.

Primo and his manager, Leon See, arrived in Chicago yesterday but found that Promoter Mique Malloy had not secured a satisfactory victim for the proposed bout. Carnera's appearance will depend on the Illinois state athletic commission which has barred Leon See.

Carnera was scheduled to meet Bombo Chevalier in the "battle of vindication" but for some reason—possibly the chance of the Oakland negro again refusing to "dive" and forcing Primo's handlers to reenact their towel throwing stunt—he has been dropped from consideration.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht to Visit the United States

Berlin, Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former prsident of the reichsbank, will leave Sept. 23 for a two months visit to the United States, it was announced today.

He will take with him his 19-year-old son, Jens.

Dr. Schacht was Germany's delegate to the Paris conference which drew up the Young plan of reparations and resigned the presidency of the bank owing to his disagreement with provisions of the plan.

Eskimo Seeks Working Mate

The Eskimo bride is chosen, not for her looks, but mainly because she is good at making clothing, a resourceful cook, and a handy worker around the camp. The girl who is unable or unwilling to do her share of the work, even if she possesses the beauty of a venus, has a poor chance of finding a mate.

PENNEYS MEET CAMP LINCOLN KITTENBALL TEAM IN PLAYOFF

TWO TEAMS WILL BATTLE TO BREAK THREE GAME TIE AT KOERING FIELD TONIGHT

BENNIE FOSTER TO PITCH FOR PENNEYS; CAMP LINCOLN BOASTS MANY STARS

The J. C. Penney kittenball team, city league champions, will meet the Camp Lincoln team tonight in the play-off game of a post-season series at Koering field at 6:30 o'clock. If former games between the two teams are any indication, a large crowd of spectators will be on hand to witness the fracas.

Bennie Foster, Penney mound ace, will do the hurling for the champions. Bennie turned in a no-hit, no-run game against the Bye Clothing team recently to clinch the city title for Penneys. He also has pitched three former games against the Lincolnites and has turned in some nice strikeout records against the boys who spend their summers at Hubert lake.

This will be the fourth meeting of the two teams this season. As yet honors are even. The first game, played at Camp Lincoln, resulted in a tie, 3-3, when the game had to be called on account of darkness. The next game was played at Koering field here and Penneys eked out a victory by the narrow marging of 5-4. The last game of the series was recorded in favor of the Lincolnites by a score of 5-0.

Camp Lincoln boasts a strong lineup of college athletes and former stars who will make the going tough for Penneys. Coach Everett Dean of the University of Indiana and several former Drake University stars are included in the Camp Lincoln line-up.

Eskimo Seeks Working Mate

The Eskimo bride is chosen, not for her looks, but mainly because she is good at making clothing, a resourceful cook, and a handy worker around the camp. The girl who is unable or unwilling to do her share of the work, even if she possesses the beauty of a venus, has a poor chance of finding a mate.

BENNIE FOSTER TO PITCH FOR PENNEYS; CAMP LINCOLN BOASTS MANY STARS

The J. C. Penney kittenball team, city league champions, will meet the Camp Lincoln team tonight in the play-off game of a post-season series at Koering field at 6:30 o'clock. If former games between the two teams are any indication, a large crowd of spectators will be on hand to witness the fracas.

Bennie Foster, Penney mound ace, will do the hurling for the champions. Bennie turned in a no-hit, no-run game against the Bye Clothing team recently to clinch the city title for Penneys. He also has pitched three former games against the Lincolnites and has turned in some nice strikeout records against the boys who spend their summers at Hubert lake.

This will be the fourth meeting of the two teams this season. As yet honors are even. The first game, played at Camp Lincoln, resulted in a tie, 3-3, when the game had to be called on account of darkness. The next game was played at Koering field here and Penneys eked out a victory by the narrow marging of 5-4. The last game of the series was recorded in favor of the Lincolnites by a score of 5-0.

Camp Lincoln boasts a strong lineup of college athletes and former stars who will make the going tough for Penneys. Coach Everett Dean of the University of Indiana and several former Drake University stars are included in the Camp Lincoln line-up.

LIONS HOLD LADIES' NIGHT AT PINE BEACH

Geraldine Kiebler, Mitz Witham, Dr. ing Enjoyed by Lions and Wives at New Popular Resort

"BATHING BEAUTY" CONTEST

Geraldine Kiebler, Metz Witham, Dr. Badeaux, Mrs. C. H. Hauss and "Sonny" Hauss on Program

Brainerd Lions and Lionesses congregated at the popular Pine Beach Hotel last evening and enjoyed a fine night of entertainment, the occasion being ladies' night.

After the banquet, A. L. Roberts, manager of the hotel, was introduced by R. E. Wyett. Mr. Roberts gave a very enlightening talk on the activities of the hotel this summer thus far and thanked the people of Brainerd for the fine support given the resort. Mr. Wyett next introduced Congressman W. I. Nolan, who kept the crowd in its best humor by his witticisms.

An elaborate musical program was prepared and presented by Dr. G. I. Badeaux. Geraldine Kiebler and Mitz Witham rendered several violin duets, which called for numerous encores. Dr. Badeaux's solos were thoroughly enjoyed, after which he requested Mrs. C. H. Hauss of St. Louis to favor the audience with a solo and she responded with "Sweet Mystery of Life," which was beautifully rendered.

Last on the program was "Sonny" Hauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hauss, who quite captured his audience with his tap dancing and solos. "Sonny" is but six years but he has been entertaining for three years. His intricate tap dancing and powerful young voice with perfect rendition, gained the whole-hearted plaudits of his audience.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hauss and son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Thompson. Mrs. Hauss is a radio entertainer, singing and playing the pipe organ over various stations in St. Louis.

Dancing, with music furnished by Lou's orchestra until 11 o'clock, was indulged in by the assemblage, after which the crowd repaired to the beach to witness the "bathing beauty" contest. This event furnished the comedy of the evening and the crowd was convulsed with mirth at the antics of the famous "beauties." After much parading and posing, the audience finally agreed that Miss Tamale, otherwise known as "Miss Mexico," was the winner of the contest and would be sent to Bermuda to enter international competition. When R. L. Geist, manager of the contest, presented Miss Tamale with a bunch of onion tops as first prize, "she" was almost "overcome" with her honors. Miss Tamale was discovered to be none other than George Sweet of the local gas office.

Mrs. Dixie Thompson then gave a short diving exhibition on the diving raft which was lighted by flares. Not to be outdone, the "bathing beauties" followed suit and attempted to emulate each dive, with much resultant merriment to the crowd.

AUXILIARY BAND WINS FIRST PLACE

Brainerd Musicians Get Lead Place in Contest Among Auxiliary Bands at Crookston

PERFORMANCE PRAISED

Park Rapids Wins Highest Honors in the Drum Corps Competition

The American Legion Auxiliary Band, under the direction of Miss Effie Drexler, won first prize in the American Legion Auxiliary band contest which was held in Crookston on Monday evening, August 4. The contest was held in the Recreational park, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

In the contest, the American Legion bands competed first. These included the Duluth American Legion Navy band which was the first Legion band organized in the world, which is rather a unique honor; the famous Bearcat band of Minneapolis and the Cambridge band, this being its first appearance in this part of the state.

The Auxiliary bands came next, the rules of the contest being similar to those of the American Legion contest. For the warming up march, Miss Drexler chose "Independentia March" by R. V. Hall which was snappily played. For the overture, "The Silver Wedding" by Fchletegrell was selected. It was brilliantly executed, and the rippling cadenza played by Miss Alma Brown drew much applause. Each player showed good phrasing, expression and even tempo. Sousa's Cotton March closed the trio required for the contest.

The ladies received many commendatory remarks on their playing from the judges, directors and other musicians. One of the judges stated "You well deserve your prize," other saying "You have an excellent concert style," "That overture you played showed what you could do with delicacy of tone" and "Your climaxes were beautifully handled."

Tuesday morning's activities included marching and playing with the Cambridge band of 37 musicians. Their uniforms of blue and gold harmonized ideally with those of the Brainerd ladies. In the afternoon was the big parade in which the band took part.

The Sixth District, in which Brainerd is located, shared several first honors. The Park Rapids drum corps went home with first prize in the drum corps contest of Tuesday evening, while their masterful drum major M. Miller took first prize in the individual bugler's contest on Tuesday morning. Mr. Miller has won this honor for three consecutive years.

The Brainerd American Legion Auxiliary band's representatives to Winnipeg, Canada were the Misses Emily and Mardelle Mraz who drove up leaving Crookston on Wednesday morning.

Others from Brainerd besides the Auxiliary band at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Al Veillette, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hagberg, Jr., A. C. Mraz, Archie Falconer and Bob Anderson.

Gorilla Not Tall

The adult male gorilla is from 5 to 6 feet high in its natural attitude, although after death it may be stretched beyond this. Most specimens are under 6 feet, on account of the relative shortness and generally fixed position of the legs.

Happy Days

Little Mary was on a visit to her grandparents and the old-fashioned grandfather clock in the hall was a source of wonderment to her. While she was standing before it her grandmother said to her from the next room: "Is the clock running, dear?" "No, ma'am," promptly replied Mary, "it's just standing still and wagging its tail."—Montreal Star.

AUXILIARY BAND WINS FIRST PLACE

PERFORMANCE PRAISED

Park Rapids Wins Highest Honors in the Drum Corps Competition

The American Legion Auxiliary Band, under the direction of Miss Effie Drexler, won first prize in the American Legion Auxiliary band contest which was held in Crookston on Monday evening, August 4. The contest was held in the Recreational park, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

In the contest, the American Legion bands competed first. These included the Duluth American Legion Navy band which was the first Legion band organized in the world, which is rather a unique honor; the famous Bearcat band of Minneapolis and the Cambridge band, this being its first appearance in this part of the state.

The Auxiliary bands came next, the rules of the contest being similar to those of the American Legion contest. For the warming up march, Miss Drexler chose "Independentia March" by R. V. Hall which was snappily played. For the overture, "The Silver Wedding" by Fchletegrell was selected. It was brilliantly executed, and the rippling cadenza played by Miss Alma Brown drew much applause. Each player showed good phrasing, expression and even tempo. Sousa's Cotton March closed the trio required for the contest.

The ladies received many commendatory remarks on their playing from the judges, directors and other musicians. One of the judges stated "You well deserve your prize," other saying "You have an excellent concert style," "That overture you played showed what you could do with delicacy of tone" and "Your climaxes were beautifully handled."

Tuesday morning's activities included marching and playing with the Cambridge band of 37 musicians. Their uniforms of blue and gold harmonized ideally with those of the Brainerd ladies. In the afternoon was the big parade in which the band took part.

The Sixth District, in which Brainerd is located, shared several first honors. The Park Rapids drum corps went home with first prize in the drum corps contest of Tuesday evening, while their masterful drum major M. Miller took first prize in the individual bugler's contest on Tuesday morning. Mr. Miller has won this honor for three consecutive years.

The Brainerd American Legion Auxiliary band's representatives to Winnipeg, Canada were the Misses Emily and Mardelle Mraz who drove up leaving Crookston on Wednesday morning.

Others from Brainerd besides the Auxiliary band at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Al Veillette, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hagberg, Jr., A. C. Mraz, Archie Falconer and Bob Anderson.

A special group of selections has been arranged by Professor Knupple for the occasion.

AITKINITES FLY TO CITY AND BACK

Mayor E. A. Weisbeck Heads Party in Flight to Brainerd Last Evening

Headed by Mayor E. A. Weisbeck, a group of Aitkin citizens flew to Brainerd and back last evening in the trimotored airship piloted by "Thunder" Johnson, who is flying the plane in the Brainerd area today.

Those in the Aitkin party included: Charles Young, Nick Kokis, George Smith, Manor Hanson, Odin Way and Ellis Way.

Gorilla Not Tall

The adult male gorilla is from 5 to 6 feet high in its natural attitude, although after death it may be stretched beyond this. Most specimens are under 6 feet, on account of the relative shortness and generally fixed position of the legs.

English Invention

Stainless steel was invented in 1916 by a cutlery worker in Sheffield, England.

Happy Days

Little Mary was on a visit to her grandparents and the old-fashioned grandfather clock in the hall was a source of wonderment to her. While she was standing before it her grandmother said to her from the next room: "Is the clock running, dear?" "No, ma'am," promptly replied Mary, "it's just standing still and wagging its tail."—Montreal Star.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

MISS AUDREY A. . . .

. . . An enthusiastic member of the Junior League, entertained several members of her chapter at bridge last week at her parents' home at Sea Cliff, L. I. She wore a corn-color flat crepe frock with puff sleeves that were full and quaint enough to recall the early days of the nineteenth century although the up-curving hip-yoke which topped the circular skirt was very smart and a contemporary fashion. Over this, the bodice was slightly bloused, a silhouette much liked by the younger set, and bows provided the only trimming. Strands of simulated pearls and an initialed handkerchief were chosen as accessories.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5197 is a copy of this frock. Sizes 14 to 42, 50 cents.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

MISS AUDREY A. . . .

. . . An enthusiastic member of the Junior League, entertained several members of her chapter at bridge last week at her parents' home at Sea Cliff, L. I. She wore a corn-color flat crêpe frock with puff sleeves that were full and quaint enough to recall the early days of the nineteenth century although the up-curving hip-yoke which topped the circular skirt was very smart and a contemporary fashion. Over this, the bodice was slightly bloused, a silhouette much liked by the younger set, and bows provided the only trimming. Strands of simulated pearls and an initialed handkerchief were chosen as accessories.

Pictorial Printed Pattern No. 5197 is a copy of this frock. Sizes 14 to 42, 50 cents.

Crosby Driver Robbed of Car and $300 Near Deerwood

BANDIT SENDS IN FAKE CALL; HOLDS UP JOHN PETERSON

ORDERS CAB DRIVER TO SIDE ROAD; AUTHORITIES EXPECT EARLY ARREST

BANDIT HIDES IN THE CAR AT DEERWOOD WHILE DRIVER LOOKS FOR PASSENGER

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and his deputies aided by Crsoby and Deerwood police worked today on clues which may lead to the early arrest of a masked bandit who late Tuesday evening robbed John Peterson, Crosby taxi-driver, of his cab and $300 on the highway between Crosby and Deerwood.

The bandit used a fake call to execute the hold-up. He telephoned Peterson from Deerwood asking him to take him to Crosby. Peterson drove his car to Deerwood and parked there. Fifteen minutes elapsed and his passenger did not appear. The driver then attempted to locate him around town. Inquiries failed to give him any information as to who made the call. Deciding to return to Crosby he got into his car and noticed the outline of a man in the blackness of the interior of the back seat.

"Do you want to go to Crosby," he asked the man.

"I'm the man," came the reply.

A few miles out of Deerwood, the man leaned over the front seat and poked a gun in Peterson's back.

"Drive into the first side road," he commanded the driver.

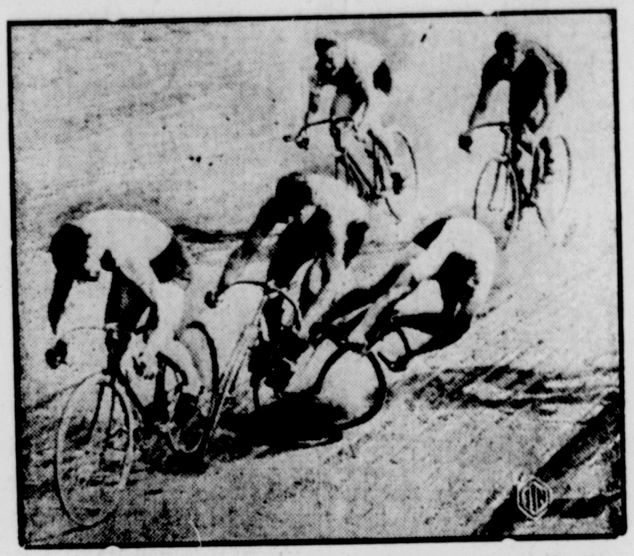

Peterson did as he was ordered. The bandit then ordered him to hand over his money and get out of the car. This done, the bandit drove away in the car, leaving the driver behind to make his way to Crosby.

The car is a Studebaker "Commander" sedan, five-passenger, painted black. Its license number is Minn. B 176-18.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

August 7, 1905

The heavy rains north of here last week are already having their effect on the state of water in the river here. There has been a rise of about ten inches from the low point reached since the recent flood. There is no fear that the river will rise to a flood stage as formerly, however, it is still over the flat this side of the pump house and it is necessary to use a boat in going to and from unless one wishes to walk around by way of the big sewer.

The oat harvest in the Brainerd district is commencing and will be well under way the coming week. The rye is nearly all in shock. The crop on the high ground is exceptionally good this year.

The steamer Sea Gull which went to Dr. Camp's place up river with a party of about 20 pleasure seekers yesterday, struck a deadhead on her way down and snapped the propellor shaft. She drifted in ,arriving at her wharf in the wee small hours.

The Northern Pacific express company has just received a brand new wagon and is breaking it in this afternoon.

One of the big steam drills has been pulled off the work up the line and is being brought to town today and will go to work at once on the fair grounds. Its operations will be watched with interest by the general public. The machine will be set about 200 yards north of Oak street and about 200 yards west of the east line of the forty containing the fair ground buildings. Much confidence is felt by iron men in the outcome.

RAIN WATERS REACH FLOODS IN ARIZONA

CLAIM AT LEAST TWO LIVES, INUNDATE STREETS OF NOGALES

BELIEVED OTHER BODIES MAY BE FOUND WHEN WATERS SUBSIDE

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Rain waters which reached flood proportions claimed at least two lives early today and covered the streets of this city and its sister center across the international border, Douglas, Sonora, under four feet of water.

The unidentified bodies of a man and a woman were found by Mexican soldiers and police in Nogales, Sonora, and it was feared that others would be found in the ruins of several adobe houses. Fifteen houses tumbled beneath the weight of the water, it was reported.

The Sonora chief of police said two children were missing.

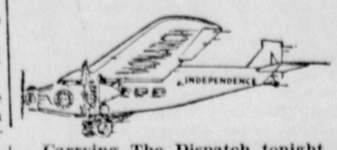

The border was closed to all except flood workers.

The flood threatened to become more serious as heavy rains continued in the early morning hours and the water rose steadily.

First floors in Nogales, Sonora, were flooded, forcing mothers to carry their children to the house roofs for safety. Merchants moved their stocks to upper stories to prevent further damage.

In the Arizona city, the municipal building, police station and offices of the International, a daily newspaper, were flooded.

The rain began Wednesday noon and by this morning the waters began moving from the mountains above this city across the international border, striking with full force on the Mexican side.

BATTLE HUGE WALLS OF FLAME

Plymouth, Mass., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Reports from the Cape Cod forest fire area indicated today that 3,000 firemen and volunteers had won a 40-hour battle against huge walls of flames which had menaced nearly a dozen communities, including this town.

With damage already estimated at upwards of $300,000, threatening fire on either side of the Cape Cod canal appeared virtually under control, although fires were still burning in both sections.

Late last night the tiny town of Mashpee on the south side of the cape found itself almost directly in the path of the so-called Bourne-Pocasset fire and it appeared that the village might be doomed.

Over 1,500,000 people visited Buick showrooms on Saturday, July 26, to see The Eight as Buick Builds It . . . the greatest reception ever accorded an eight-cylinder car.

Bona fide orders for these new Buick Eights totaled 7000 before the car was presented—a greater volume of business than any single month's sales of any other Eight* ever built.

And within the first five days, this record volume of orders had doubled.

There are four series, in four price ranges, including one series priced fully $200 lower than last year's Buick Six. It is the world's lowest priced Valve-in-Head Straight Eight!

LENNOX TORRID ZONE furnace for soft coal with outer casing removed, showing riveted construction. (A) Extra-long smoke chamber, or radiator, squeezes maximum of heat from smoke before it can escape up chimney. (B) The specially designed fuel-saving fire-pot with locomotive grates and other features. You can see why this furnace is guaranteed for 10 years and why its average life, based on the service records of thousands of Torrid Zones, is 21 years.

THE smell of coal gas is unknown in homes heated by the steel Torrid Zone. Winter after winter, without replacement or repair, this marvelous furnace keeps delivering clean, healthful, luxurious heat.

For just as the locomotive boiler is made of steel, riveted and calked for complete safety—so the Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

This is the wonderful improvement this furnace can mean in your home next winter—a more healthful atmosphere and greater cleanliness. No more poisonous gases—no smoke or dust to soil walls and draperies. Even the cellar will be cleaner than ever before. Every part of the Torrid Zone is as tight as a drum.

Two other essentials to healthful heating—humidity and air circulation (or ventilation)—obtainable only with warm air systems are yours with the Lennox Torrid Zone. In the Torrid Zone, the humidifier has twice the evaporating area inside the casing of ordinary water pans. Rapid evaporation is also necessary, so it is placed directly above the firing doors where it gets the most heat possible. Proper air circulation is guaranteed, when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs it according to the Standard Code. This is the most desirable heating plant that science has yet devised.

Torrid Zone design means more heat from your favorite fuel

Pick your favorite fuel—hard coal, soft coal, coke, lignite, wood, gas or oil—and this furnace will save you money in burning it. The Torrid Zone produces from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel than other furnaces do, hence will heat your house with less fuel than any other furnace will consume. Oversize heating surface radiates the greatest possible amount of heat from the smoke before it escapes up the chimney. Efficient, economical operation and great permanence have won thousands of warm friends for the Torrid Zone.

Come see this marvelous heating unit today—or phone or write. We want to show you the sturdy locomotive grates, the "lazy" shaker and many other features that would need pages if explained in this paper. Indeed, we have a mighty interesting book about it to which you are welcome. Plans and estimates quickly furnished for installations in new or old homes and other buildings of all types and sizes. Factory engineering service and blueprints obtained for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

Crosby Driver Robbed of Car and $300 Near Deerwood

BANDIT SENDS IN FAKE CALL; HOLDS UP JOHN PETERSON

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and his deputies aided by Crsoby and Deerwood police worked today on clues which may lead to the early arrest of a masked bandit who late Tuesday evening robbed John Peterson, Crosby taxi-driver, of his cab and $300 on the highway between Crosby and Deerwood.

The bandit used a fake call to execute the hold-up. He telephoned Peterson from Deerwood asking him to take him to Crosby. Peterson drove his car to Deerwood and parked there. Fifteen minutes elapsed and his passenger did not appear. The driver then attempted to locate him around town. Inquiries failed to give him any information as to who made the call. Deciding to return to Crosby he got into his car and noticed the outline of a man in the blackness of the interior of the back seat.

"Do you want to go to Crosby," he asked the man.

"I'm the man," came the reply.

A few miles out of Deerwood, the man leaned over the front seat and poked a gun in Peterson's back.

"Drive into the first side road," he commanded the driver.

Peterson did as he was ordered. The bandit then ordered him to hand over his money and get out of the car. This done, the bandit drove away in the car, leaving the driver behind to make his way to Crosby.

The car is a Studebaker "Commander" sedan, five-passenger, painted black. Its license number is Minn. B 176-18.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

August 7, 1905

The heavy rains north of here last week are already having their effect on the state of water in the river here. There has been a rise of about ten inches from the low point reached since the recent flood. There is no fear that the river will rise to a flood stage as formerly, however, it is still over the flat this side of the pump house and it is necessary to use a boat in going to and from unless one wishes to walk around by way of the big sewer.

The oat harvest in the Brainerd district is commencing and will be well under way the coming week. The rye is nearly all in shock. The crop on the high ground is exceptionally good this year.

The steamer Sea Gull which went to Dr. Camp's place up river with a party of about 20 pleasure seekers yesterday, struck a deadhead on her way down and snapped the propellor shaft. She drifted in ,arriving at her wharf in the wee small hours.

The Northern Pacific express company has just received a brand new wagon and is breaking it in this afternoon.

One of the big steam drills has been pulled off the work up the line and is being brought to town today and will go to work at once on the fair grounds. Its operations will be watched with interest by the general public. The machine will be set about 200 yards north of Oak street and about 200 yards west of the east line of the forty containing the fair ground buildings. Much confidence is felt by iron men in the outcome.

RAIN WATERS REACH FLOODS IN ARIZONA

CLAIM AT LEAST TWO LIVES, INUNDATE STREETS OF NOGALES

BELIEVED OTHER BODIES MAY BE FOUND WHEN WATERS SUBSIDE

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Rain waters which reached flood proportions claimed at least two lives early today and covered the streets of this city and its sister center across the international border, Douglas, Sonora, under four feet of water.

The unidentified bodies of a man and a woman were found by Mexican soldiers and police in Nogales, Sonora, and it was feared that others would be found in the ruins of several adobe houses. Fifteen houses tumbled beneath the weight of the water, it was reported.

The Sonora chief of police said two children were missing.

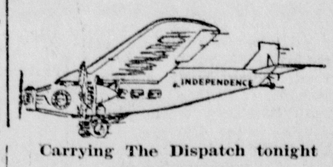

The border was closed to all except flood workers.

The flood threatened to become more serious as heavy rains continued in the early morning hours and the water rose steadily.

First floors in Nogales, Sonora, were flooded, forcing mothers to carry their children to the house roofs for safety. Merchants moved their stocks to upper stories to prevent further damage.

In the Arizona city, the municipal building, police station and offices of the International, a daily newspaper, were flooded.

The rain began Wednesday noon and by this morning the waters began moving from the mountains above this city across the international border, striking with full force on the Mexican side.

BATTLE HUGE WALLS OF FLAME

Plymouth, Mass., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Reports from the Cape Cod forest fire area indicated today that 3,000 firemen and volunteers had won a 40-hour battle against huge walls of flames which had menaced nearly a dozen communities, including this town.

With damage already estimated at upwards of $300,000, threatening fire on either side of the Cape Cod canal appeared virtually under control, although fires were still burning in both sections.

Late last night the tiny town of Mashpee on the south side of the cape found itself almost directly in the path of the so-called Bourne-Pocasset fire and it appeared that the village might be doomed.

'BLUEBERRY WAR' MARKS MYSTERY OF MISSING GIRL

Merle Potter Writes of Historical Incidents in Pioneer Days of State of Minnesota

BRAINERD MOB IN LYNCHING

Indian Uprising Feared by Sheriff, Governor Sends Troops, Indians Blueberrying

Merle Potter, of the Minneapolis Journal staff, is writing a series of narratives based on historical incidents and presented as "Minnesota's 101 Best Stories." In the Sunday issue he took up the "Blueberry War" at Brainerd which marked the incident of the missing girl, Helen McArthur, in 1872, and the subsequent lynching at Brainerd of two Indians. Mr. Potter writes:

Some of the Twin City papers were derisive—they were unkind.

They were unkind because they made sport of John Gurrell. They called him "The Hero of the Blueberry War." Gurrell was the sheriff of Crow Wing county, and everyone around Brainerd said he did the best he could under the circumstances.

The genesis of the "Blueberry War" (and don't be misled, there were casualties in this war), was in the mysterious disappearance of Helen McArthur. She was the 22-year-old daughter of a farmer who lived a few miles out of the village of Crow Wing.

One day in the spring of 1872 Helen started toward town with her sister. When they were half way toward their destination, the sister decided to return to the farm.

Girl Mysteriously Vanishes

Helen did not come back that night but there was no anxiety about her. It was believed she had decided to stay with friends in town. When several days passed and she did not return, an investigation was begun, but no trace was found of the girl, except some of her clothes on a river bank. She was never found, but there were many theories as to what misfortune had befallen her.

One rumor had it that she had eloped with a lumberman, but for a time the majority of the neighbors held to the opinion that she had committed suicide. As evidence they noted that before she had left home, she had "taken off her hoops and carefully put them away." Usually she had worn a hoop skirt, which was the fashion of the day, when she went visiting.

It was thought that she had been despondent over some love affair, had gone to the river, loaded down her clothes with rocks, and jumped into the stream to be drowned.

Clue Starts Blueberry War

Next it was reported that she had been seen in the vicinity of Leech Lake among the Pillager Indians by whom she was said to have been kidnaped. The search was vigorously pushed in that section but nothing was found that would indicate she ever had been there. Inadvertently a clue was turned up that led to much excitement and the famed "Blueberry War."

One day a passing white settler heard a suspicious conversation in the tepee of a halfbreed Chippewa. The squaw of the halfbreed was upbraiding her husband because he had beaten her too severely and too frequently. She threatened that if he ever did it again she would tell all she knew of his connection with the death of the McArthur girl. Immediately the settler informed the authorities of what he had heard, and the halfbreed, along with a brother, was placed under arrest at Brainerd. They were charged with having attacked the girl, murdered her and disposed of the body by tying rocks around her neck and casting her in the river.

Lynch Mob Overcomes Sheriff

The men were arrested in July, and when they asked for time to find witnesses to prove their innocence, the court continued the case for several weeks. The people of the community had been inflamed by the alleged deed and were incensed by the action of the court in postponing the trial.

This was the situation on the night of the 23rd of July. Sheriff John Gurrell was sitting in the jail at his desk, peacefully writing out reports, when suddenly the doors of the building were unceremoniously broken down by a mob of approximately 1,000 citizens of Brainerd, Crow Wing and Little Falls. They demanded the persons of the halfbreed prisoners, and when the sheriff made some show of resistance, they tied him up securely and went out on a lynching bee.

Down at the other end of the street on which the jail stood was a large pine tree that seemed to be providentially designed for stringing up culprits whose presence on earth were no longer considered of any value, and carrying the terrified wretches before it, the mob made off in that direction. Across the street from the spot was the Last Turn saloon.

Immediately a rope appeared from out of the crowd and it was crossed over a limb of the pine tree. The victims were given an opportunity to pronounce prayers and then the hanging was begun. One of the prisoners died without a struggle, but the other succeeded in tearing his arms loose and going hand over hand up the rope until he was sitting astride a branch overhead. His doom, however, was only delayed for a moment, for guns barked and he tumbled off, dead. The bodies were left hanging to the pine tree until morning, when they were cut down and buried by Sheriff Gurrell.

The Brainerd Tribune concluded its report of the affair by saying "and thus ended, by a fearful scene, the lives of two halfbreeds, acknowledged on all sides to be very bad Indians."

But this was not the finish of the episode.

The day following the lynching, the report was spread around that 200 Chippewas were assembling, ready to charge on the town of Brainerd and destroy the population to avenge the death of the two halfbreeds, one of whom, with a rope around his neck, had said that his companion had killed Helen McArthur as charged.

Sheriff Gurrell then turned the trick that, according to the metropolitan papers, gave him the undisputed title as "Hero of the Blueberry War." He telegraphed Governor Austin frantically, asking for troops. He said in his wire: "Please send troops immediately; town full of Indians, and have been ordered to leave, but do not."

Troops Find Blueberry Party

In response to the appeal, the governor dispatched three companies of the national guard, and an order was issued to the commanding officer of Fort Ripley to set out with his entire garrison, with rations for 30 days, to be on hand in case of trouble.

The troops arrived on the 25th, prepared for a desperate battle and a prominent place in the history books. But they were disappointed.

All the warriors who should have been daubing on war paint and dressing up their feathers, were out in the bushes picking blueberries, and so this titanic struggle came to be known as the "Blueberry War."

Blame the gum in gasolene that has stuck your valves and robbed your motor of its power.

Then—change to Koolmotor Gasolene—the gas from which harmful gum has been removed. A special process—the mini-gum process—enables Cities Service experts to reduce the gum content in Koolmotor Gasolene to a harmless minimum.

When you use Koolmotor Gasolene your valves are kept clean and free-moving. They are not held back by sticky, gummy deposits. You get full compression and full power.

Your nearest Cities Service station or dealer will serve you courteously with this powerful, clean-burning motor fuel—Koolmotor, the original high test, anti-knock green gas.

·7·

HARMFUL EFFECTS of Excessive Gum in Gasolene

1. Clogging of intake manifold.
2. Delayed seating and complete sticking of intake valves.
3. Loss of compression.
4. Loss of power.
5. "Missing" cylinders and engine failure.
6. Unnecessary repair bills.
7. Excessive gasolene consumption.

CITIES SERVICE OILS

Ends Piles Quick

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that H. P. Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy say to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at our risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back. adv.

Hard Soft Corns
Gone In 4 Days
Roots and All
Callouses Too

Out to stay—selling like hot cakes in Great Britain and now in America—the pleasant, easy way to get rid of corns—a joyous, refreshing, invigorating foot bath for 3 or 4 nights and then lift out the corn—roots and all.

They call this miracle worker Radox and since it has been working wonders with the bad feet of the tight littles Isles—plasters and acids, cutting and skin destroying liquid belong to the dark ages.

It's the modern way—the sensible way to take out corns—to abolish callouses—to dissolve the hard skin from heels and toes and to put your feet in good vigorous condition so that you can walk and run and jump and dance with ease and pleasure.

Just ask for a box of Radox at Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. or any modern drug store—you'll be delighted. advt.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 19 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every voerweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one."

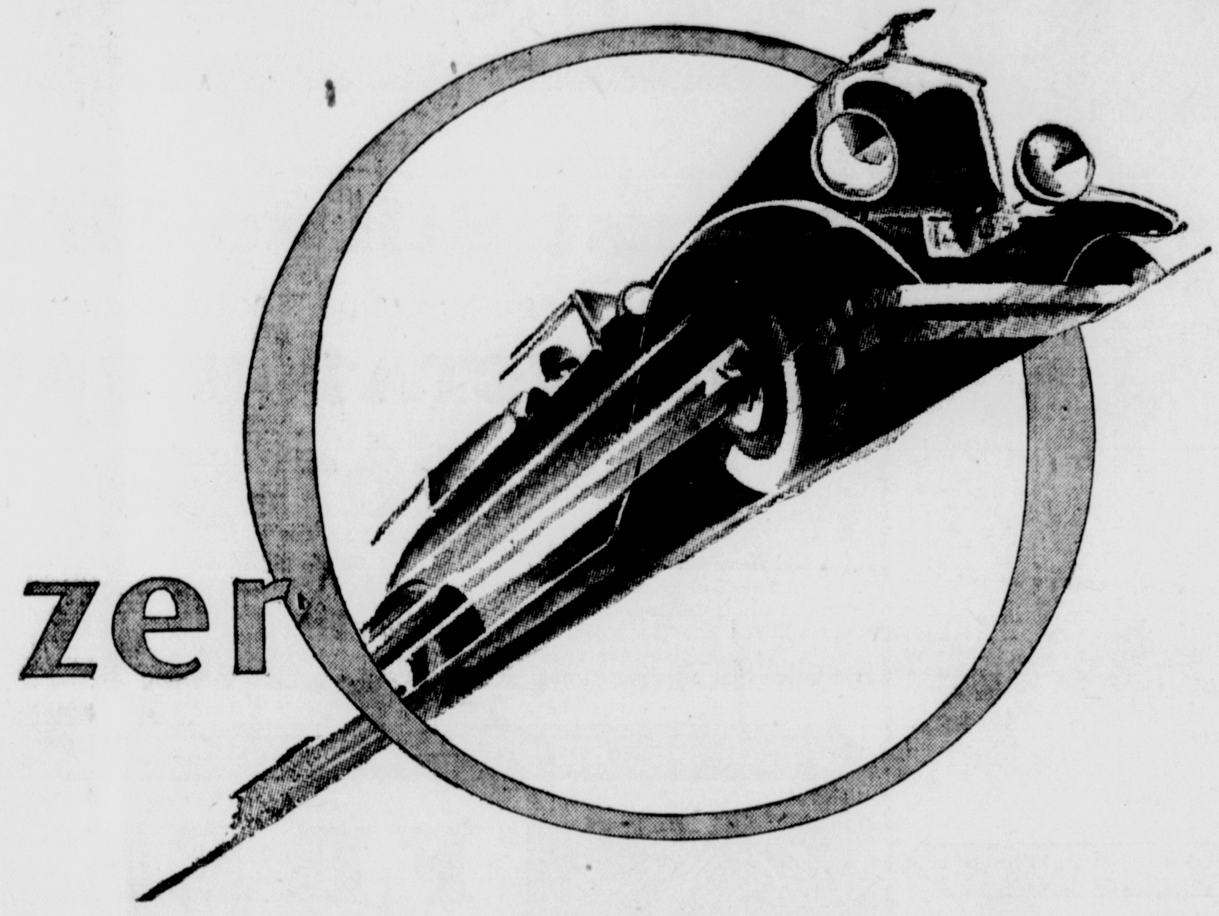

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. advt.

The ZERO hour has struck for Knocking Motors.. TIDE WATER ANNOUNCES

TYDOL ETHYL
ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

You can thank the amazing success of Hi-test TYDOL for Tide Water's latest gasoline achievement... the new TYDOL ETHYL with a zero knock rating.

Tide Water engineers have succeeded in combining the proven qualities of Hi-test TYDOL with ETHYL, the undisputed leader of anti-knock compounds... resulting in another and still greater super-fuel. A de luxe companion fuel to Hi-test TYDOL, with a certified knock rating of zero.

Bring on your high-speed, high-compression and carbonized motors. Bring on your long, hot stretches of roadway, broiling under the summer sun. Bring on the hills, the mud, the sand.

The new TYDOL ETHYL will breeze you through with the powerful thrust of a flying comet... without a single knock in a whole day's journey.

TYDOL ETHYL is a fuel for the car owner who demands the very best... and will take no substitutes. And why should he? For this zero knock rating gasoline costs only a few cents more a gallon than ordinary gasolines; and often less than the cost of premium gasolines with high knock ratings.

Make a ten gallon test

The next time you need gasoline drive up to a TYDOL ETHYL pump and try out ten gallons of this modern fuel. It will cost you only slightly more than 10 gallons of ordinary gas.

No more... perhaps less... than you have been paying for other premium gasolines.

But in any event, it is a small amount to gamble to prove to yourself just what a zero knock rating gasoline will do in your own car.

YOUR TYDOL DEALER NOW OFFERS YOU:-

1. The same Hi-test TYDOL... Hi-test TYDOL will continue to be the leader of non-premium gasolines—unchanged in quality or price.

2. The new TYDOL ETHYL... a de luxe, super-fuel with a zero knock rating, at only a few pennies more a gallon.

3. VEEDOL Motor Oil... Made 100% from Pennsylvania and other paraffine base crudes... used by the Graf Zeppelin and the Byrd Expedition.

Hard Soft Corns

Gone In 4 Days Roots and All

Callouses Too

Out to stay—selling like hot cakes in Great Britain and now in America—the pleasant, easy way to get rid of corns—a joyous, refreshing, invigorating foot bath for 3 or 4 nights and then lift out the corn—roots and all.

They call this miracle worker Radox and since it has been working wonders with the bad feet of the tight littles Isles—plasters and acids, cutting and skin destroying liquid belong to the dark ages.

It's the modern way—the sensible way to take out corns—to abolish callouses—to dissolve the hard skin from heels and toes and to put your feet in good vigorous condition so that you can walk and run and jump and dance with ease and pleasure.

Just ask for a box of Radox at Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. or any modern drug store—you'll be delighted. advt.

Ends Piles Quick

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that H. P. Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy say to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at our risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back. adv.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 19 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every voerweight woman in America.

"Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one."

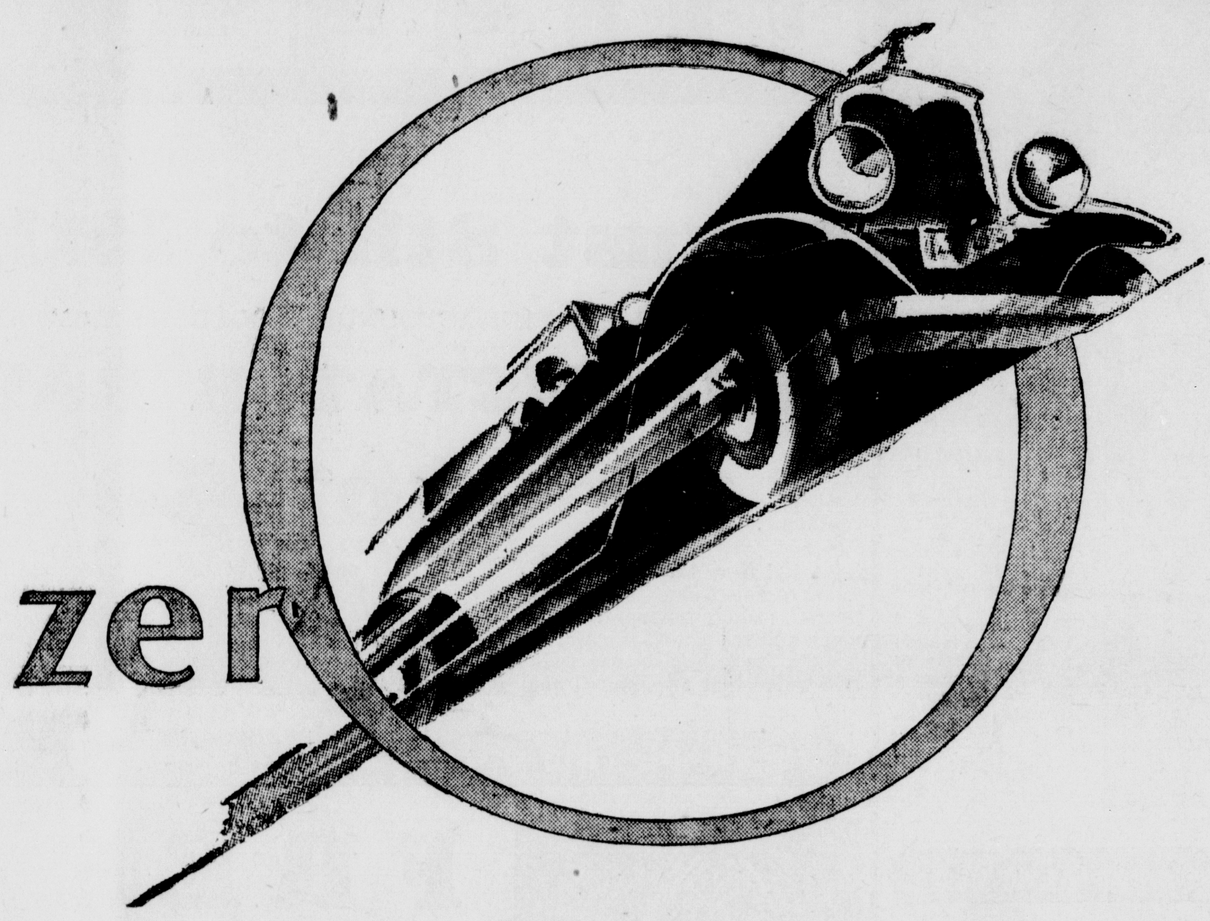

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. advt.

TYDOL ETHYL

ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

You can thank the amazing success of Hi-test TYDOL for Tide Water's latest gasoline achievement . . . the new TYDOL ETHYL with a zero knock rating.

Tide Water engineers have succeeded in combining the proven qualities of Hi-test TYDOL with ETHYL, the undisputed leader of anti-knock compounds . . . resulting in another and still greater super-fuel. A de luxe companion fuel to Hi-test TYDOL, with a certified knock rating of zero.

Bring on your high-speed, high-compression and carbonized motors. Bring on your long, hot stretches of roadway, broiling under the summer sun. Bring on the hills, the mud, the sand.

The new TYDOL ETHYL will breeze you through with the powerful thrust of a flying comet . . . without a single knock in a whole day's journey.

TYDOL ETHYL is a fuel for the car owner who demands the very best . . . and will take no substitutes. And why should he? For this zero knock rating gasoline costs only a few cents more a gallon than ordinary gasolines; and often less than the cost of premium gasolines with high knock ratings.

Make a ten gallon test

The next time you need gasoline drive up to a TYDOL ETHYL pump and try out ten gallons of this modern fuel. It will cost you only slightly more than 10 gallons of ordinary gas.

No more . . . perhaps less . . . than you have been paying for other premium gasolines.

But in any event, it is a small amount to gamble to prove to yourself just what a zero knock rating gasoline will do in your own car.

YOUR TYDOL DEALER NOW OFFERS YOU:-

1. The same Hi-test TYDOL . . . Hi-test TYDOL will continue to be the leader of non-premium gasolines—unchanged in quality or price.

2. The new TYDOL ETHYL . . . a de luxe, super-fuel with a zero knock rating, at only a few pennies more a gallon.
